RENEW...

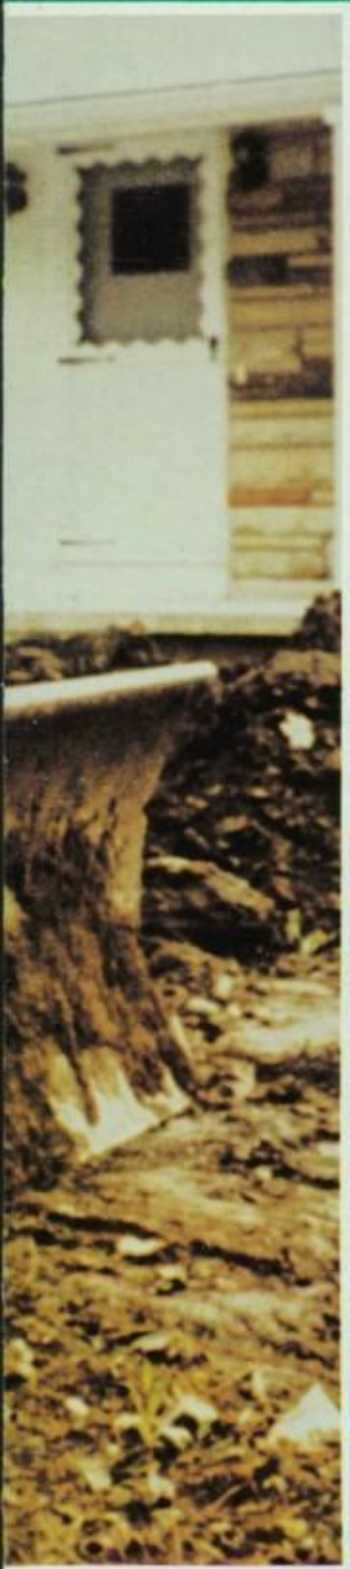

... to restore

... to rebuild

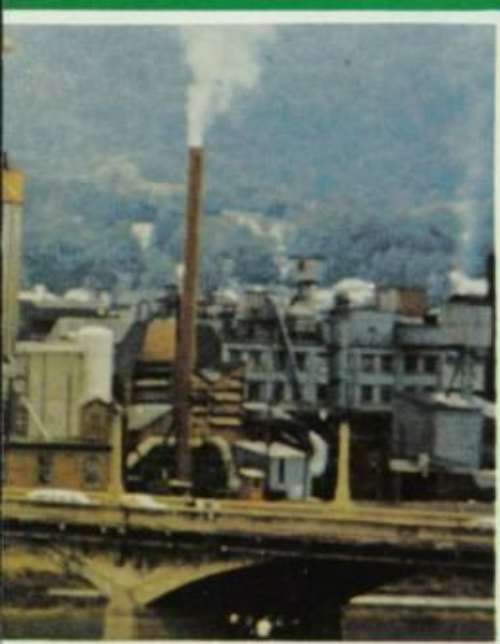

... to modernize

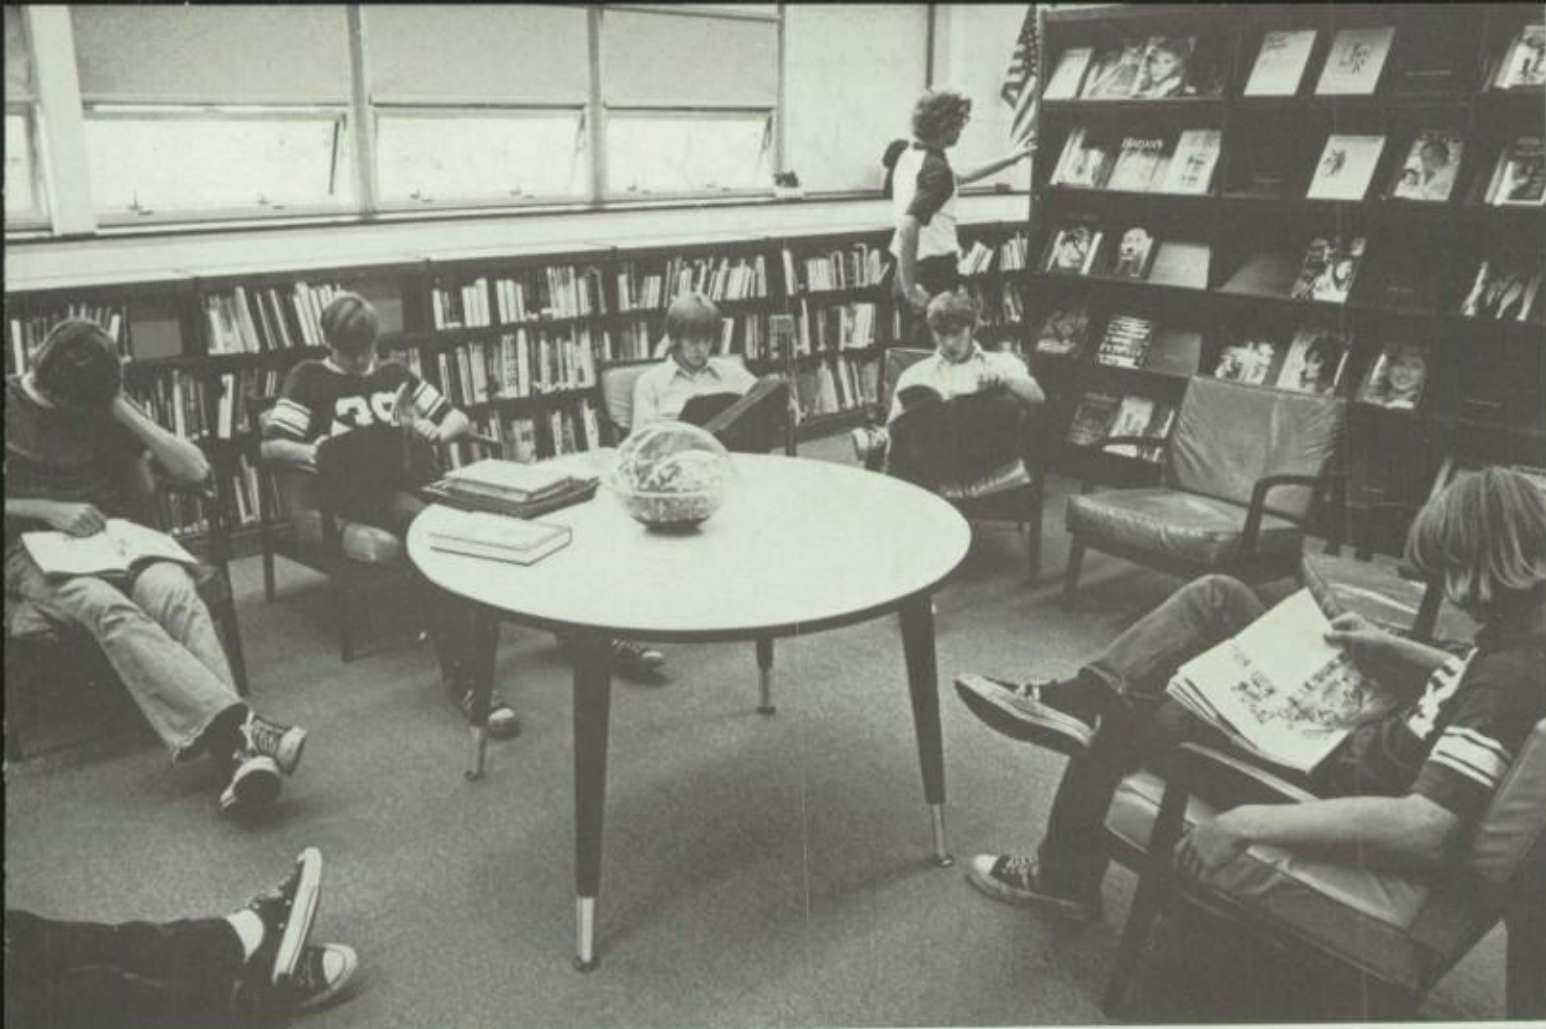

... to re-establish old times

EAST, THE CITY

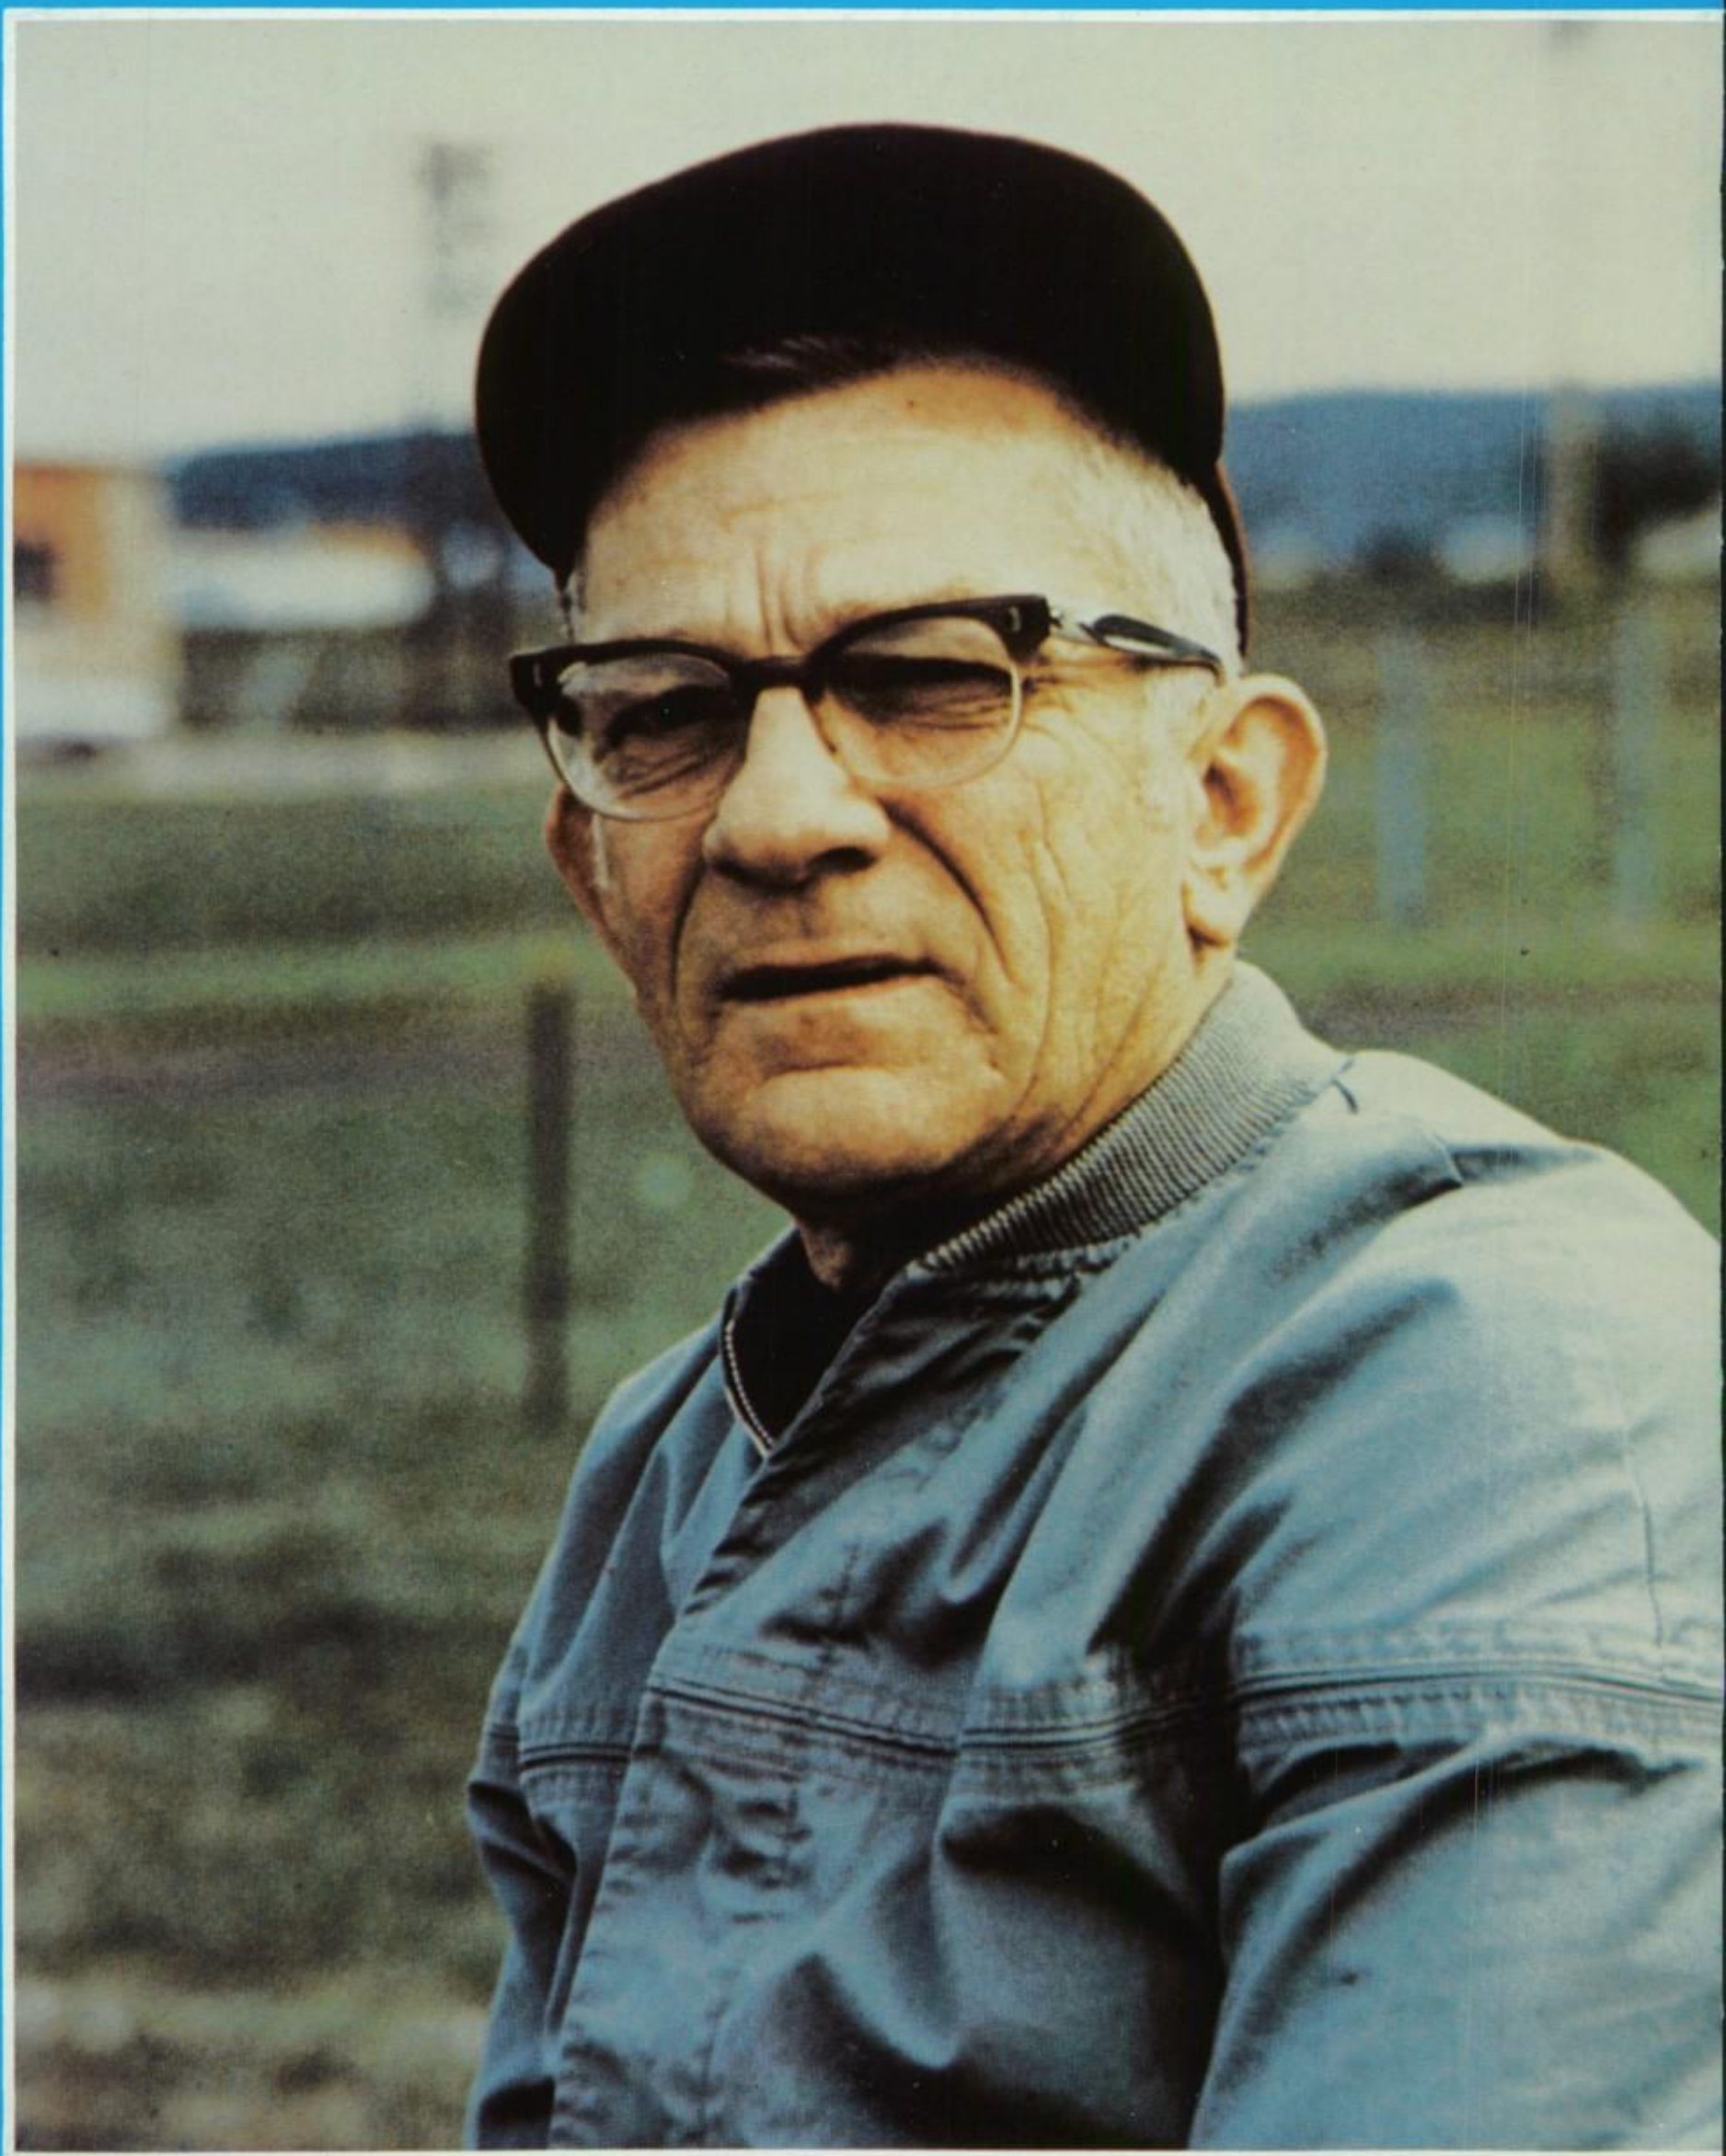

As the planners of the "rehabilitated" Corning rebuild obsolete structures, renovate or readapt others, we look to East High, our city, for its renewal.

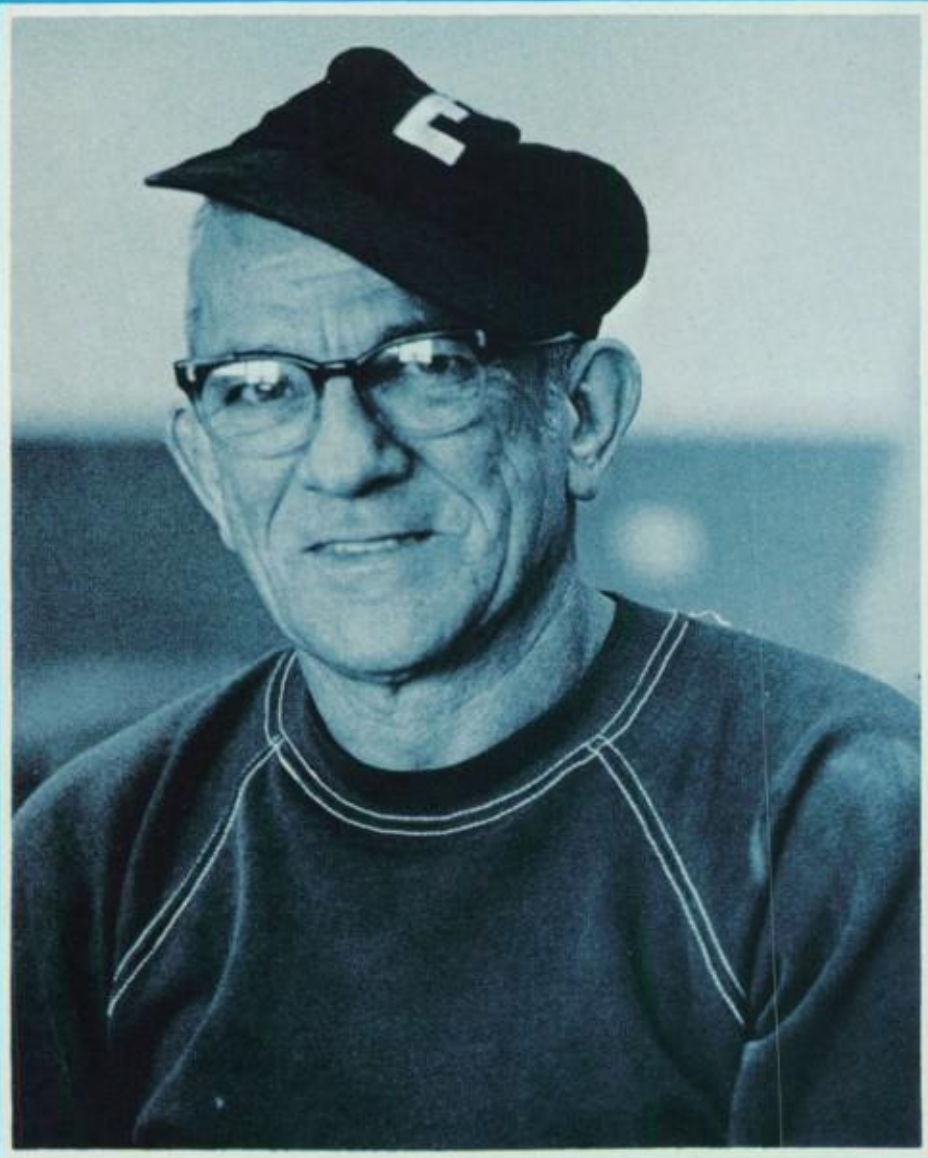

Our city, like any other, has its government with its mayor and his council. Most important, the citizens (all of us) show interest and involvement which makes the whole system work. Our lives include involvement, fitness, recreation and culture for the leisure times.

As we view the renewal in our city of Corning, we watch for the community of East High's transformation.

To Mr. Kocher, we dedicate this book to you.

PRESENTING THE KEY

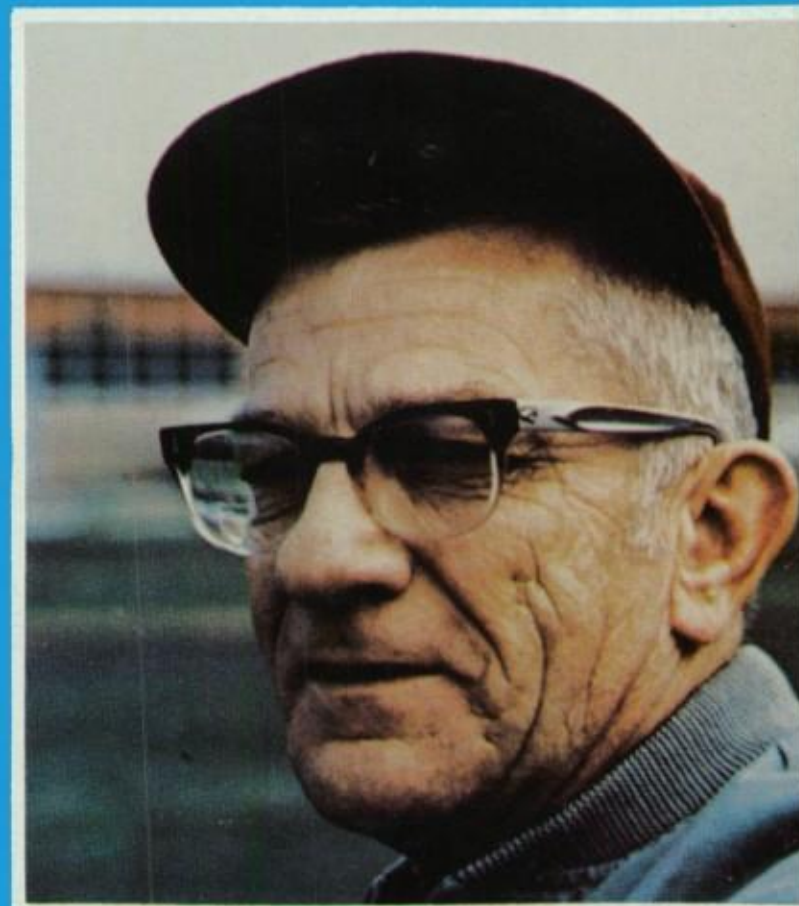

As with every city we have a key; when someone contributes something very special to the community, the key is given to him.

We'd like to present Mr. Kocher with the key to the city of East High.

Actually Mr. Kocher already has the keys to East High and his use of them is frequent. He is the one who makes it possible for the school to be open and available for extracurricular activities: rehearsals and practices, Yearbook work sessions, and all of the sports events. He opens and closes our building and all the maintenance in between is his work too.

We want to recognize and thank Mr. Kocher for all the contributions he's made to the East High Community. To Mr. Kocher's already numerous assortment of keys we'd like to add one more.

GOVERNMENT

OFFICIALS

Although the leaders of East High aren't elected, chances are that Mr. Burmeister could run for mayor and win by a landslide!

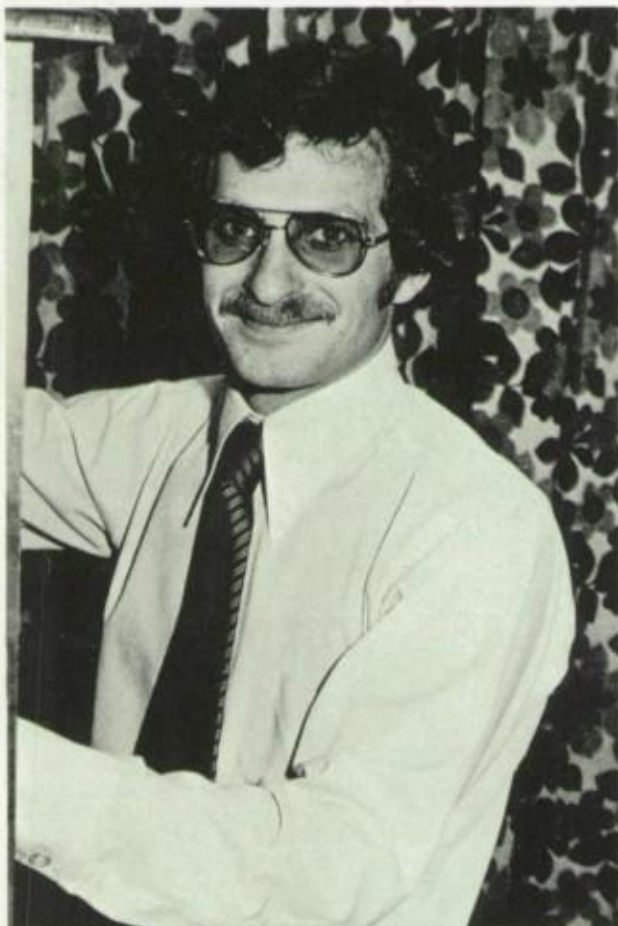

Mr. Burmeister and Mr. Mishrell are our head officials in the city government. They're the ones who suggest reforms, observe results, and generally guide and supervise the lives of the citizens of East.

Under them are the representatives of the people (us), including guidance counselors and the faculty. They can be compared to the aldermen and Common Council of Corning in that they tie together the administrators and the governed.

To the head officials in our government, congratulations on another year of successful governing, and we hope East undergoes many positive changes under your leadership.

Mr. Burmeister, Principal

Mr. Schmookler

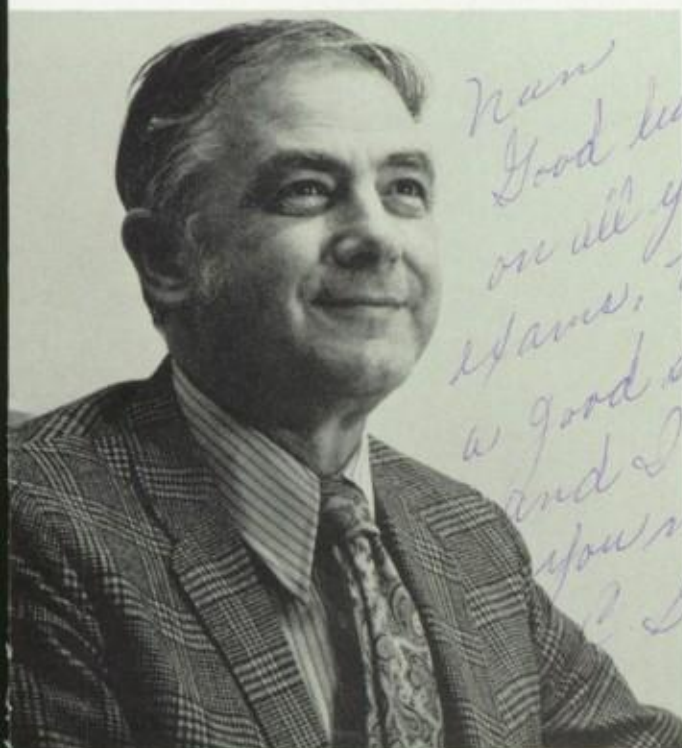

Mr. Mishrell, Vice Principal

Mrs. Briggs, Guidance Counselor

FREE ADVICE

Never were a group of people named more suitably than the guidance counselors in our city. Guidance is given in areas of scheduling, college decisions, and general living. The majority of grievances concerning existence in the city of East are cured in the four rooms of the guidance office. Here is found the personal, individual contact that is left out in many other cities. And here is where much of the renewal of East will originate from.

Mr. Goliber, Guidance Counselor

Mr. Reilly, Guidance Counselor

Mr. Pieri, Guidance Counselor

COMMUNICATIONS CENTER

The Media Center is another rapidly growing faction at East High. The library has expanded its assortment of learning aids and has many more books, magazines, and machines to help the students. The largest growth has been in the Audio-Visual department. East has received several new television sets and other A.V. equipment. In future years, our school is to be used as a headquarters for all audio-visual aids from which the other schools in the district will borrow.

BODY LANGUAGE

The Physical Education Program is one of the courses at East that has already undergone a renewal. Electives are now offered in six week durations, which include tennis, archery, lacrosse, swimming, and golf—a versatile and unconventional curriculum; an example of future structures at East.

'AIN'T WHAT IT USED TO BE'

The English Department also has undergone a change from a standard traditional course to a series of variable electives in the senior year. The four mini courses, each ten weeks long, are to be revised each year according to student interests so that subjects taught are relative to the needs and desires of the participants.

THE MAKING OF HISTORY

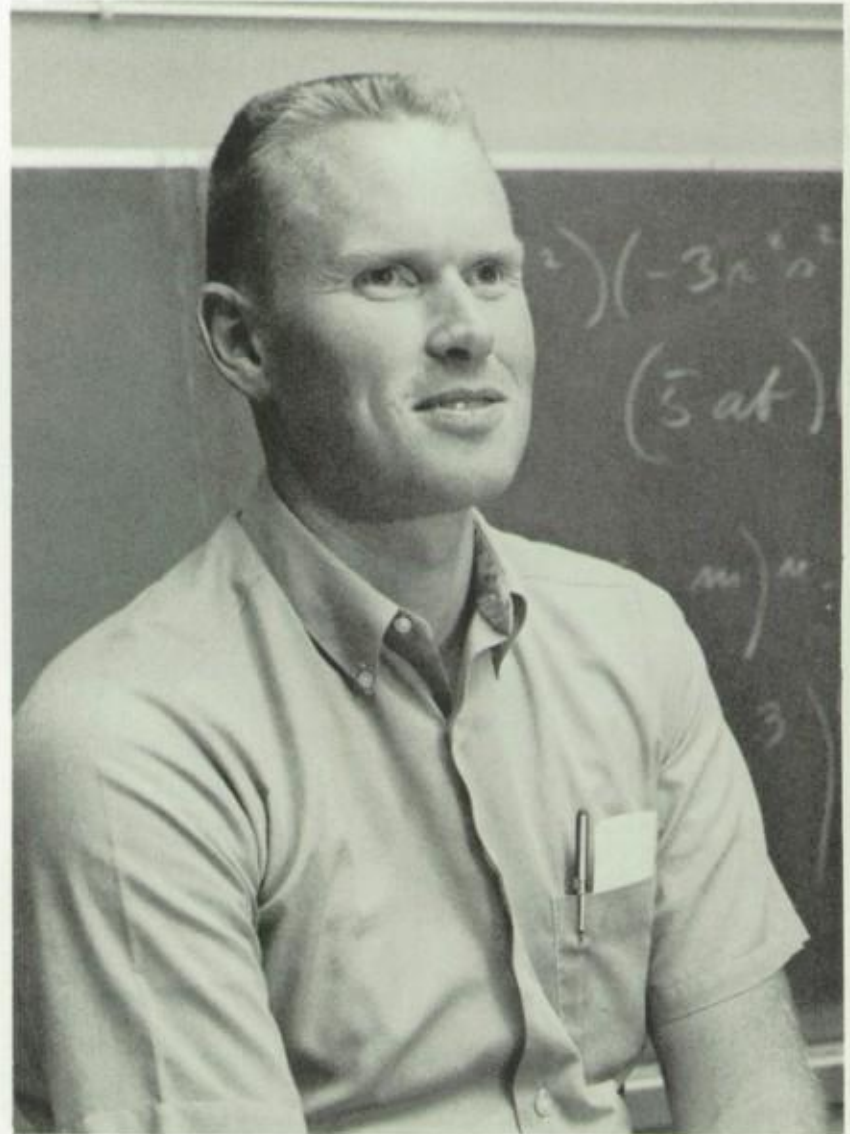

"Those who do not know history are doomed to repeat it." This often copied remark makes a great deal of sense when thinking especially of renewal and change in man's ways of living. Courses covering everything from Ancient History to European Cultures to Political Science and Contemporary America are taught, insuring us that no graduate of East High will ever doom the world because of ignorance! We watch for our history department to make history as well as to study it.

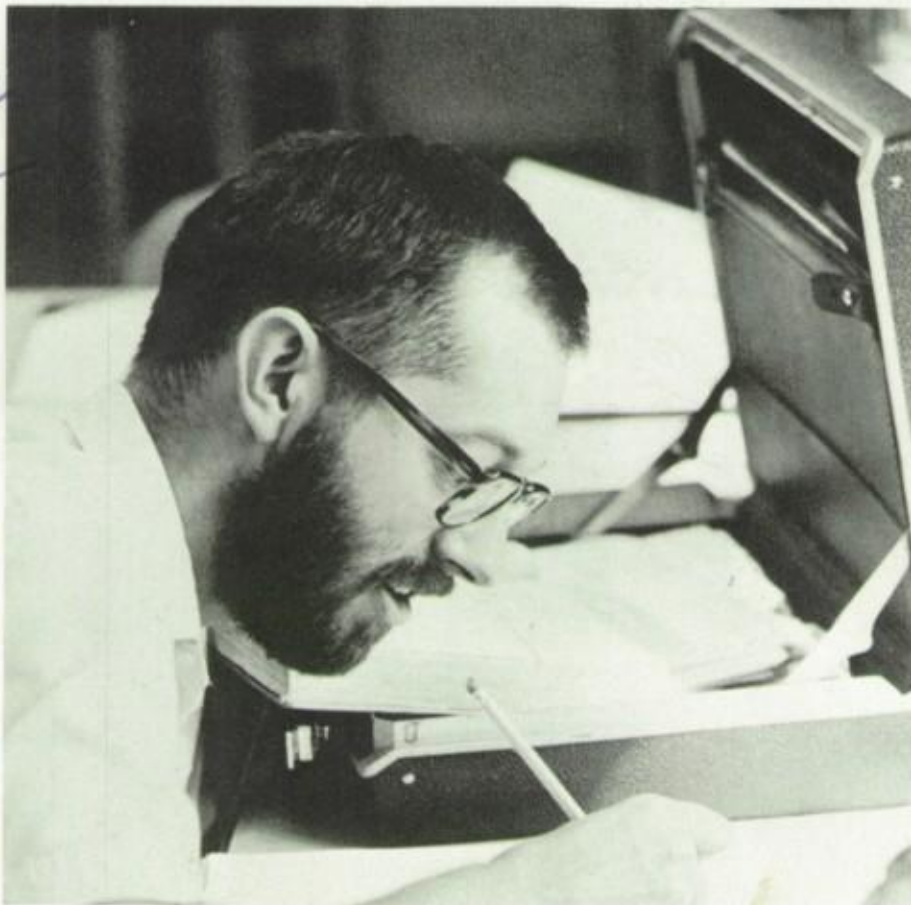

Mr. Cayea, History

MEN & MACHINES

Math has played an important role in the redesign of Corning. Perhaps our mathematicians aren't planning a city per se, but who knows what future geniuses they're instructing? A new bonus to the Math department is the terminal housed in 4D connected to the computer in New York. A new course in computer programming is being taught so that East may truly adapt itself to the age of the computer.

BONJOUR & ADIOS

Almost all cities have a faction of foreign speaking citizens and East is no exception. French and Spanish are taught at East and the French club is active this year making the language come alive. Along with French cooking they are tentatively planning a trip to Ottawa or some other French-speaking Canadian city.

Home Economics is also changing with the times. Along with foods and sewing courses being offered, are interior designing classes, and a semester of restaurant management which will run a small-scale restaurant within the school. No matter how many changes East goes through, eating and living will still be necessary tasks, and the Home Ec Department is rapidly moving to accommodate them.

Mrs. Hudzinski, Home Ec.

SENIORS

A FOUR YEAR STORY ABOUT TO END.

SENIOR OFFICERS: CLOCKWISE: Advisor: Mr. Avagliano, Secretary: Tina Celelli, Vice-President: Cindy Ahlgren, Treasurer: Sharon Carlson, President: Brian DiGiacomo.

SENIOR CONGRESS: ROW 1: Missy Miller, Cindy Burke, Kim Giambone, Penny Seeley. ROW 2: Wendy Araujo, Richard Olinger, Patricia Benza, Rosemary Frey, Advisor: Mr. Avagliano, Marcia Mann, Sue Heverly. ROW 3: Sue Whitney, Linda Sandroski, Chris Cavallaro, Bud Dahlgren. ROW 4: Kelly Wilcox, Toni Quattrini, Craig Keefer, Terry Smith.

"If I'm elected, I will"

WE ARE HERE; WE HAVE ARRIVED

We are here; we have arrived. But it wasn't always so. Think back . . . September 1971. We were Freshmen with big plans and ideas. Our officers were: President, Kerry Leipold; Vice-Pres., Pete Krebs; Secretary, Irene Rosettie; Treasurer, Jane Marusak, and our advisor was Mr. Barrow. Groping around the school, "discovery" was our byword.

Suddenly we became Sophomores. We were finally upperclassmen with one class below us. This year our attitude was "Watch us, Freshmen, we know our way around." Our officers were: President: Dom Lisi, Vice-Pres.: Bev Ayers, Secretary: Sue Brown, Treasurer: Roe Frey, and our advisor, Mr. Carlineo. We were still discovering new aspects of the school and of ourselves, though we hated to admit it. Meanwhile, in the back of all our minds — Junior Prom.

September 1973 — our big year. The Junior Car Wash, "Getting It Together" week, and all too soon, time to start work on the Prom. We nickled and dimed our way to May 18, 1973. Our king was Craig Keefer, our queen: Rosemary Frey. In our Junior year our officers were: President: Dom Lisi, Vice-Pres.: Cindy Ahlgren, Secretary: Tina Celelli, Treasurer: Mary Ruocco, our advisor: Mr. Carlineo.

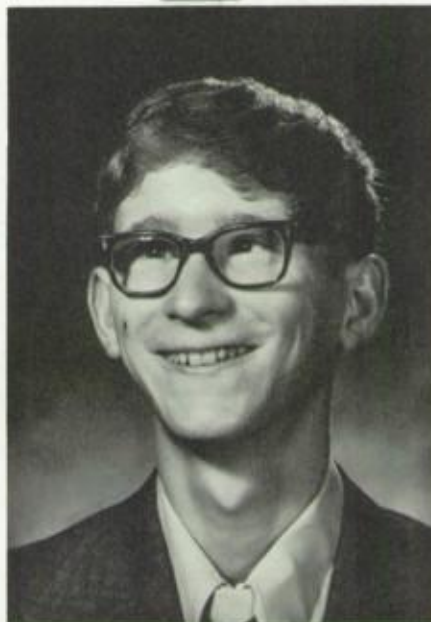

This is it! We are Seniors, the leaders of the school. Don't you wish it could last forever? But it can't. Don't you wish time would stop right now? But it won't. So stop time yourself. Think of what we've done. Magazine sales, Float Competition, Senior Ball. And the East-West football clash, the most exciting game in four years. At least it was for us.

One project right after another. Work. That's really our own special story. How we worked; four years of hard work. Work, struggle, chaos, it all turned out nearly perfectly. Four years of pure success seems too much to ask for. Four years of near perfectness is what we got. So look back — remember the good times. When you are sitting in the fifth row, fifth seat at graduation, remember all the good times. And think of us — "Class of 1975."

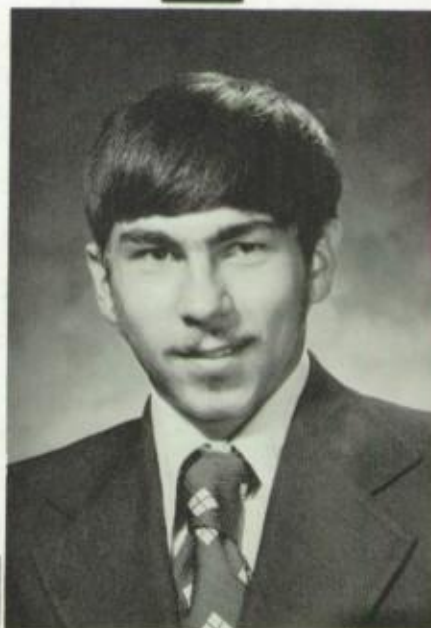

"Class of 1975" — That's us. We are here. We have arrived.

ONE SPECIAL MEMORY

Susan Brown

Your Senior year, being the last, brings back the memories of other years. One of these memories was the Junior Prom. The Junior Prom was the first thing that finally made you feel older than the underclassmen with one step away from the top. Last year our Junior Prom theme was "Just You 'n' Me" and our group was Bobby Comstock. That special day: May 18th. One special day involving weeks of work, laughter, and more work. One full day and night of decorating made the gym ready, with the crepe paper, murals, and merry-go-round filling the gym. One special day . . . with many more to come.

"Seniors" means magazine sales. Magazine Sales means work and work is exactly what over 200 seniors did. The familiar phrase, "Would you like to buy a magazine?" began to echo down the halls and throughout the city. Each senior tried to meet a goal of $75, receiving a free year-book. The Senior class goal was $20,000. The class, giving up much of their free time, both day and many hours at night, reached $4,000 over their goal. The top salesmen for the sales were Irene Rosettie and Sue Whitney, with David Russell, Paul Turevon, and Cindy Ahlgren following close behind. The highest homeroom was 419. Congratulations to the Senior class for an excellent job done on the magazines sales.

Never

YOU ARE FINALLY A SENIOR

David Littrell

One person: a citizen . . . in a school: a city in itself. So much work to be done, yet as a Senior . . . so much to enjoy. It seems funny knowing you shall never return, in a sense, to this city you have spent twelve years in. Twelve long, but memorable years. Your 12th year . . . possibly your most memorable. It seems that the things to do are never ending.

Remember when you were in ninth grade? How spectacular you thought it would be to be a Senior and how you just couldn't wait to be one yourself! Now that you're there . . . it's almost hard to believe.

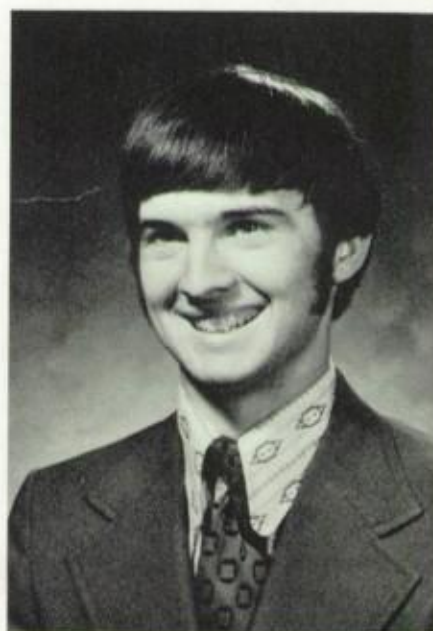

Senior year: your special year. It's almost hard to explain how you really feel. Something deep inside you gives you a happy feeling, yet you also have a feeling of sadness. Your year: you are finally a Senior. Make this year your best ever.

In any city, there are always people who are special. In our city, to the Seniors, Mr. Avagliano is special. An interview was taken with Mr. "A" to find out some information on the Seniors. Mr. "A" said he feels the Senior class is a very unique class and that they carry things out once they have started them. The Class of 1975, carrying on many of the Senior traditions, have, however, made many changes. They are having new graduation announcements made, and are planning on receiving new caps and gowns. There are many plans being made for the year. Some of these include the Senior weekend, Senior Banquet, and the Senior Ball. To Mr. "A", our special kind of person, the "Class of 1975" would like to thank you for all the time and help you have given us.

WE SHALL REMEMBER . . .

As Seniors we look back on our four years of high school which consists of our achievements, personal satisfaction and our hard-earned goals. We also look in on the future with uneasiness, wondering what the future holds. Yet, everybody usually looks forward to, and remembers his/her senior year. We asked the Seniors "What does your Senior year mean to you?" Their responses:

"Sitting in the Senior section of the bleachers during assemblies."

A NEW PHASE OF LIFE

Your Senior year is almost over now and you're graduating. It is no longer possible to turn back and retrace your steps. Eighteen years have been spent working, laughing, playing, dreaming. Thoughts about going out into the world on your own, facing all the joys and sorrows of life, enter your mind. Suddenly you realize that that day isn't as far away as it used to be and you ask yourself where those eighteen years have gone. As you prepare to enter the world on your own, perhaps you feel a little excitement, even a little nervousness, and you hesitate slightly until you realize that those past eighteen years haven't been wasted. Every experience, no matter how insignificant it may be, has been of value to you. You have learned to live each day to its fullest. The challenge of meeting new faces, new ideas, and new adventures greet you as you now enter a new experience.

UNDERCLASS

A NEW BEGINNING

What will the Freshmen remember about the 1974-75 school year? There was the anxiety of the first day and going to the "up" stairwell only to discover it was a "down" stairwell. Sitting in the first pep assembly, trying to pick up the words to the Alma Mater, it suddenly became evident to everyone in attendance that they were the newcomers to the school. Of course, there was the first time that you were called to the office, to find out your mother forgot to inform you that you have an early dismissal for a dentist appointment. There was the pride of placing first in the float competition and the Freshman Hop exclusively for ninth graders. Led by Sharon Flynn as president, Cindy Patrick as vice-president, Suzanne Rahill as treasurer and Kathleen Tunney as secretary, and with the help of Mr. Pieri as adviser, it was a productive year for the Class of '78.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

September 4, 1974 until June 21, 1975-in case you hadn't realized it, that's almost an entire year of your life gone by. Just what happened in that time you spent wandering the hallowed halls of East waiting on edge for the next long weekend or vacation?

There was the holding of office by the first President, Gerald Ford, and Vice-President, Nelson Rockefeller, not elected to their places by the public. Complicated talk seemed to constantly fill the air concerning the paradoxical problems of inflation and recession.

But how did that effect you? Well, the price of blue jeans went up two to three dollars making it more expensive to dress casually, let alone dress up. The price of cookies, milk, and an entire lunch went up in the school cafeteria. Going to buy a piece of pizza and a coke or even a few packs of gum began to burn a hole in your pocket.

However, other things were happening, too. Longer skirts styled with a touch of class and put together looks arrived for girls. Not to be outdone, guys kept in tune with the nostalgia craze and picked up the "Great Gatsby" look.

The music scene moved on with the renewal of some old artists like Frankie Valli and Chuck Berry. Television produced more police and private detective shows like "Kojak," "Get Christie Love," "Barnaby Jones" and "Police Woman." Movies moved towards the, for some unknown reason, ever-popular disaster film such as "Earthquake," "Towering Inferno" and "Airport '75."

All in all, much more happened while you were yawning over homework, and writing essays than could fit here, but these are a few of the things that happened.

A CRUISING YEAR

The Class of '77, this year up from the ranks of being Freshmen, found this year a good time to "get into it" a little bit more—to understand their school a little better before ascending to the peaks they will enjoy as juniors and seniors. Chosen as class officers were Jim Miller—president, Steve Rossettie—vice-president, Lee Ahlgren—secretary, and Judy Jack—treasurer. One of their varied projects for the year included the deciding on, ordering and distributing of class rings.

It seems that this year was a cruising one for the sophomore class as they prepared themselves to enter high gear for the next two years.

GOLDEN HALL-WALKING AWARD

Today, a student can win recognition in almost any pursuit: musical, athletic or academic. However, there is one challenge met everyday by around 1200 of us for which we receive no recognition, and that challenge is getting from one classroom to the next. In what other situation does one need the grace of Rudolf Nureyev, the speed of a Gayle Sayers and the strength of a mack truck just to survive? Not only is physical adeptness required, but mental sharpness, too. Braving the halls when you're mentally "not with it" can be suicide. It is our candid opinion that someone should establish a "Golden Hall-Walking Award" to be given in honor of all of us who daily risk our lives in the painful pursuit of a high school diploma.

A NOSTALGIC VIEW

1975, take a look at it; what do you see? There are memories of a Junior Prom, the Senior Ball, all the sports traditions perpetuated for yet another year. Placid, wasn't it? A return to the fifties they tell us, back to the happy days. But before you take your shoes off "to set a spell," before you decide to relax and enjoy watching the reels turn back twenty years, let's stop the reels about halfway through—somewhere in the middle of that lost decade of the sixties. Back there you'll find civil rights and anti-war movements, the space race, a cultural revolution in full swing and propelled by the energies of youth. There were mistakes made, yes; and plenty of examples of poor judgement, but the youth of the day were caught up in something bigger than themselves. "The times they were a-changin' " and not merely for change's sake. The direction was there.

What happened? Some will probably tell you it's a typical post-war syndrome, that the youth of the seventies are a generation without cause for motivation. The causes are here though, and there are probably more of them to espouse than ever before. We might start with prison reform, saving our inner cities and changing our schools. The vehicles of change are with us; what seems to be lacking is that magic formula that blends charismatic leadership with causes and produces action. Without the kind of purposeful mobilization that was once with us, we may condemn ourselves to be the next in a long line of silent generations. With so many changes that need to be made, let's hope our 50's fad doesn't blind us and that we can start changing things before they change us—for good.

INVOLVEMENT PLUS

What did the junior class do this year? Led by Joe Illig—president, Kathy Patrick—vice-president, Kiki Lando—secretary, Karen Quatrin—treasurer, and Mr. Carlineo as advisor, the class had many activities. Let's start with placing second in the float competition (when you're second you try harder), sponsoring a police-faculty basketball game with the proceeds going to help sponsor a Christmas party for handicapped children in the area, not to mention a dance, a candy sale, a car wash and a bake sale. The class officers set increased involvement and class interest as their major goals and no one can argue their success. With an energetic Junior Senate keeping the class informed, class participation boomed and put the Class of '76 in the running for one of the most active classes ever.

CHANGES

" . . . Such a justling time"
—Shakespeare

The junior year takes a lots of us by surprise: PSAT's, candy sales, the prom, abstract future plans, and that endless stream of adults asking "What are you going to be doing in a couple of years?", have a peculiar way of sneaking up on us from behind.

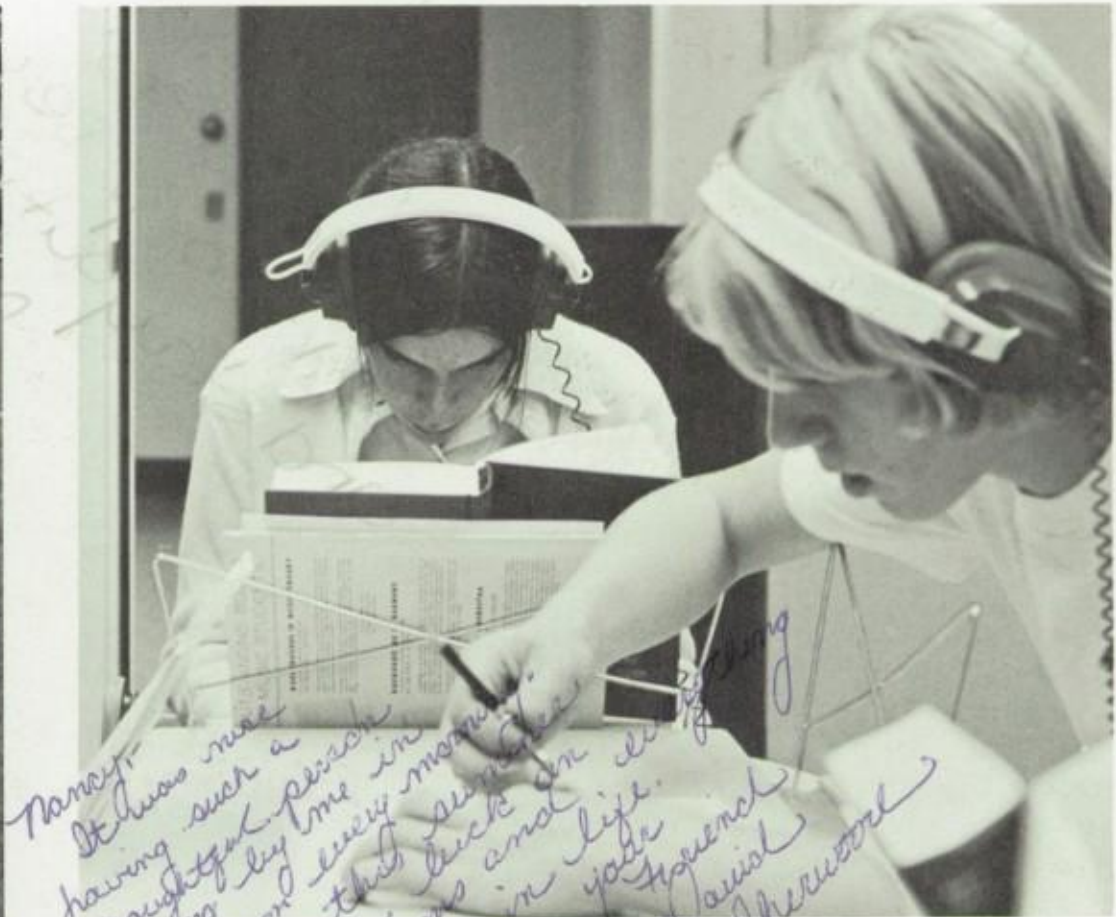

Our reactions are as varied as our own unique personalities. Some of us are oblivious to the same changes that are scaring others of us to death. Some of us see a brave new world just waiting for us to write our stories on its pages. Others of us are trying to survive in a world that seems too cold, or too damaged to try to save. Some are trying to "gracefully surrender the things of youth," while others are refusing to give up their grasp on them. Another Pepsi generation is on the way up, but the problems, the questions, the excitement, the fears are the Real Thing.

INVOLVEMENT

JUST ANOTHER SCHOOL DAY

"We better get to homeroom."

"Oh no, it's 8:15."

Time out for a library break.

Come on bell. RING!

Hurry up and eat so we can go to the lobby!

Phew, free at last!

BRING OUT THE SPIRIT

The Freshman Class Float — THE WINNER!!!

October 25th was set as the big Homecoming Football Game and all week long, spirit and enthusiasm ran high. During the week, floats were built for the Annual Class Float Competition.

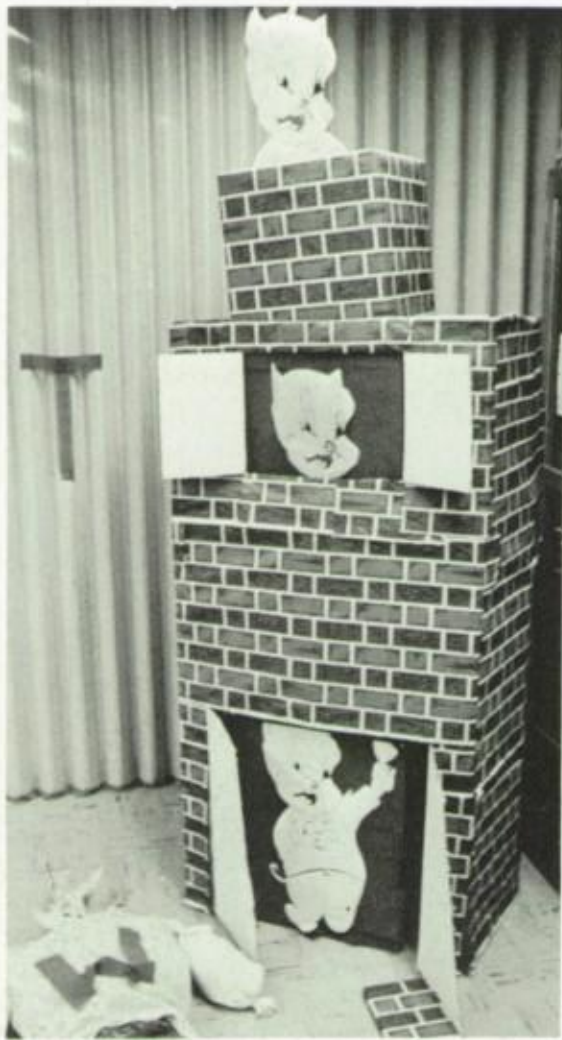

On Friday, a pep assembly, featuring an apple race won by Beth Murray and Otto Pierotti, was held, followed by a pre-game parade down Market Street. The class floats were escorted by the E.H.S. band, the cheerleaders, and the Trojettes to the stadium where this year's winner, the Freshman Class, was selected by the judges.

To top off the night, "the squad" earned its first victory, defeating Edison High School by a score of 26 to 18.

Looking back on that night, there is no doubt about it — When East High BRINGS OUT THE SPIRIT, It BRINGS OUT THE BEST!

THE WIZARDS OF EAST

The munchkins are coming!

"Okay, girls, let's show'em our stuff!"

It was the Thursday night before the East-West game and it seemed like everyone and their brother had arrived to "help." Everyone was raring to get busy, but busy at what is the Question? Cries of "more twirlers" "where's the stapler?" and "tape, tape" intermingled with "where'd all the pizza go?", "drop that squirt gun" and "eggs, anyone?" But twelve o'clock drew near and everyone, happy but tired, agreed it was time to go home.

The pep assembly the next day with its munchkins and wizards and "sexy, new cheerleaders" filled everyone's heads with enthusiasm and high hopes.

Although at the end of the game West High had more points than we did, we won in our own way, through good times, good memories, good friends!

The bigger, the better, the tighter the sweater!

"Haven't you ever seen a scarecrow before?"

"Who's got my pillow?"

HARVARD U.N.

Six students, Cindy Ahlgren, Kay Su, Marian Swain, Scott Herman, Jim Miller, and Richard Pitbladdo, and their advisor, Mr. Cayea, traveled to Boston, Massachusetts during the month of December in order to represent East High School in Harvard University's 20th Model United Nations.

The students, selected by the history department, spent many long hours at Cornell University's library and at the local facilities, gathering information regarding "their country", New Zealand.

At the conference, held at the Downtown Boston Sheraton Hotel, many formal and informal meetings were held as students from all over the United States strove to "solve" world problems. However, it wasn't all work and no play. East High was represented at the swimming party and dance that the University sponsored and enjoyed a few sight-seeing excursions, besides participating in the nightly ice cubes-hall-hockey games.

Although East did not win a delegation prize as they did last year at the Elmira College Model United Nations, they gave a good showing in the true East High School spirit.

"Let's SCULK, McQuietly, to D. P."

"I feel GREAT!"

JUST YOU-N-ME

Where'd that pony, Pecan, go?

Oh, no. Not again!

Our Royal Couple—Roe and Craig.

Decorations for the 1974 Junior Prom started early with the construction of carousel horses and the painting of wall murals, all based around the theme, Just You-n-Me. As advisor, Mr. Carlineo kept the juniors at work with his "Don't worry, we'll get it done" attitude and good sense of humor.

The chosen King and Queen, Craig Keefer and Roe Frey, danced to the traditional royalty number, played by Bobby Comstock and his band. As one o'clock grew near, couples got their coats and headed out the door, another great night to remember.

THIS is a merry-go-round?

We may not know how to spell, but we make "great" lemonade!

DECK THE HALLS

Spread the Christmas cheer.

Keep that ball, Dave!

Christmas time at East High was a very festive time. Everyone's spirits reached a peak, and you could feel the excitement in the air. The school lobby was decorated by the Art Club, the choruses presented a Christmas program, and the foods classes gave their annual delicious Christmas dinners, attended by their invited guests. Another activity that was a favorite was the Christmas tournament. This year East High did not win first place, officially, but as far as we're concerned, they are number one. In short, the school was filled with a lot of cheer and happiness, making Christmas 1974 memorable.

We wish you a Merry Christmas . . .

NO TIME FOR WORK

"East-West game or not-it's freezing!"

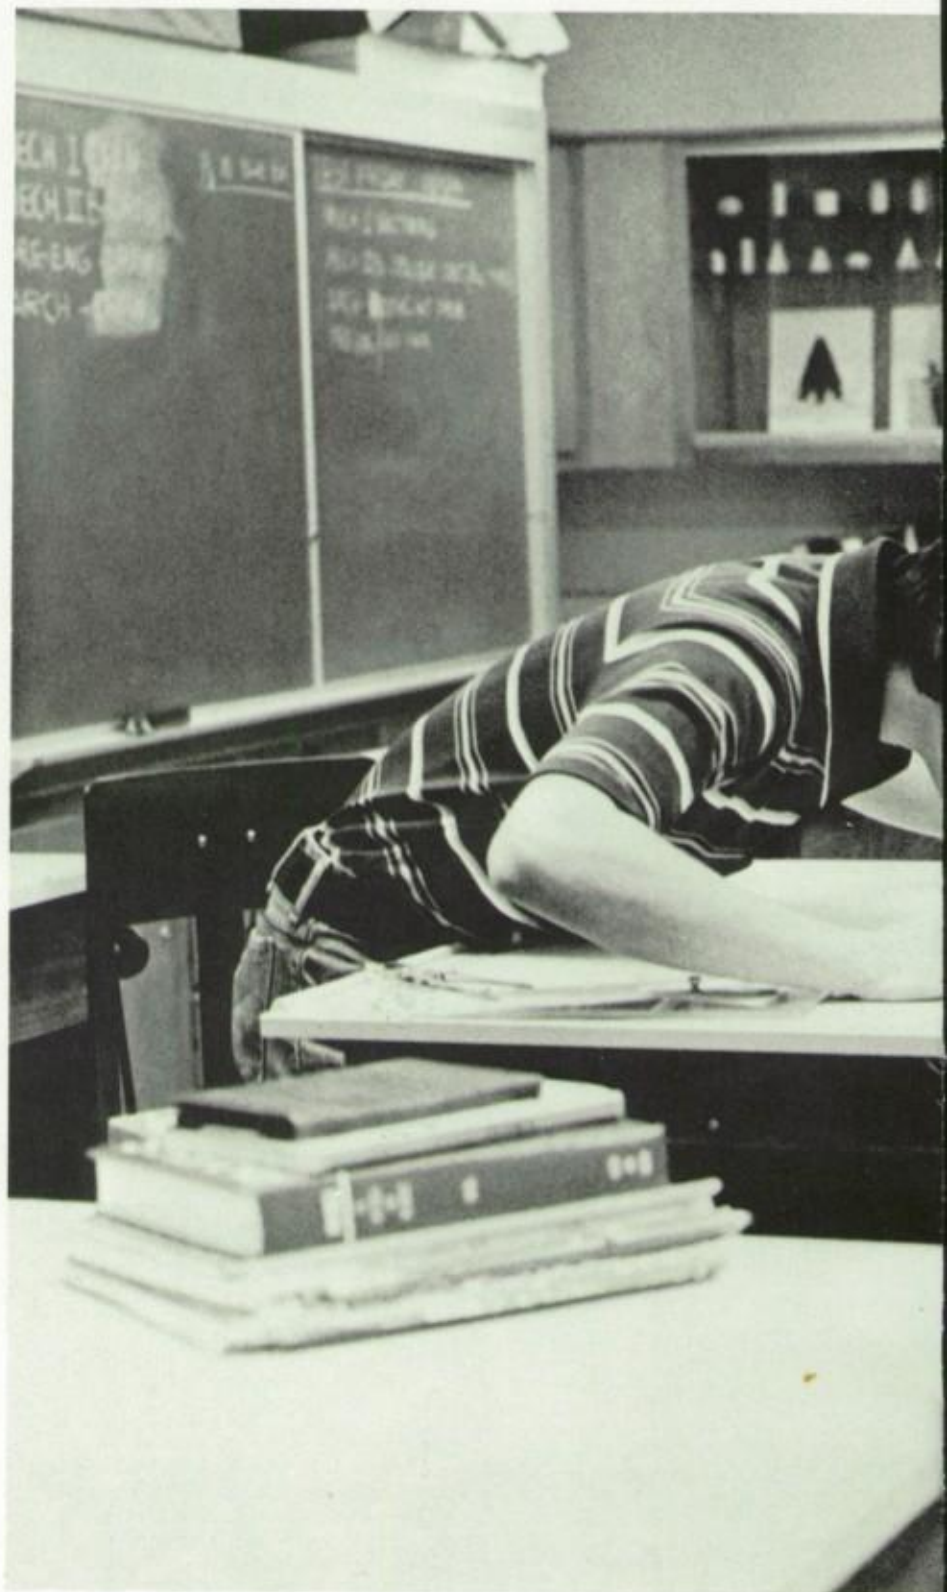

"Richard at what he likes best!"

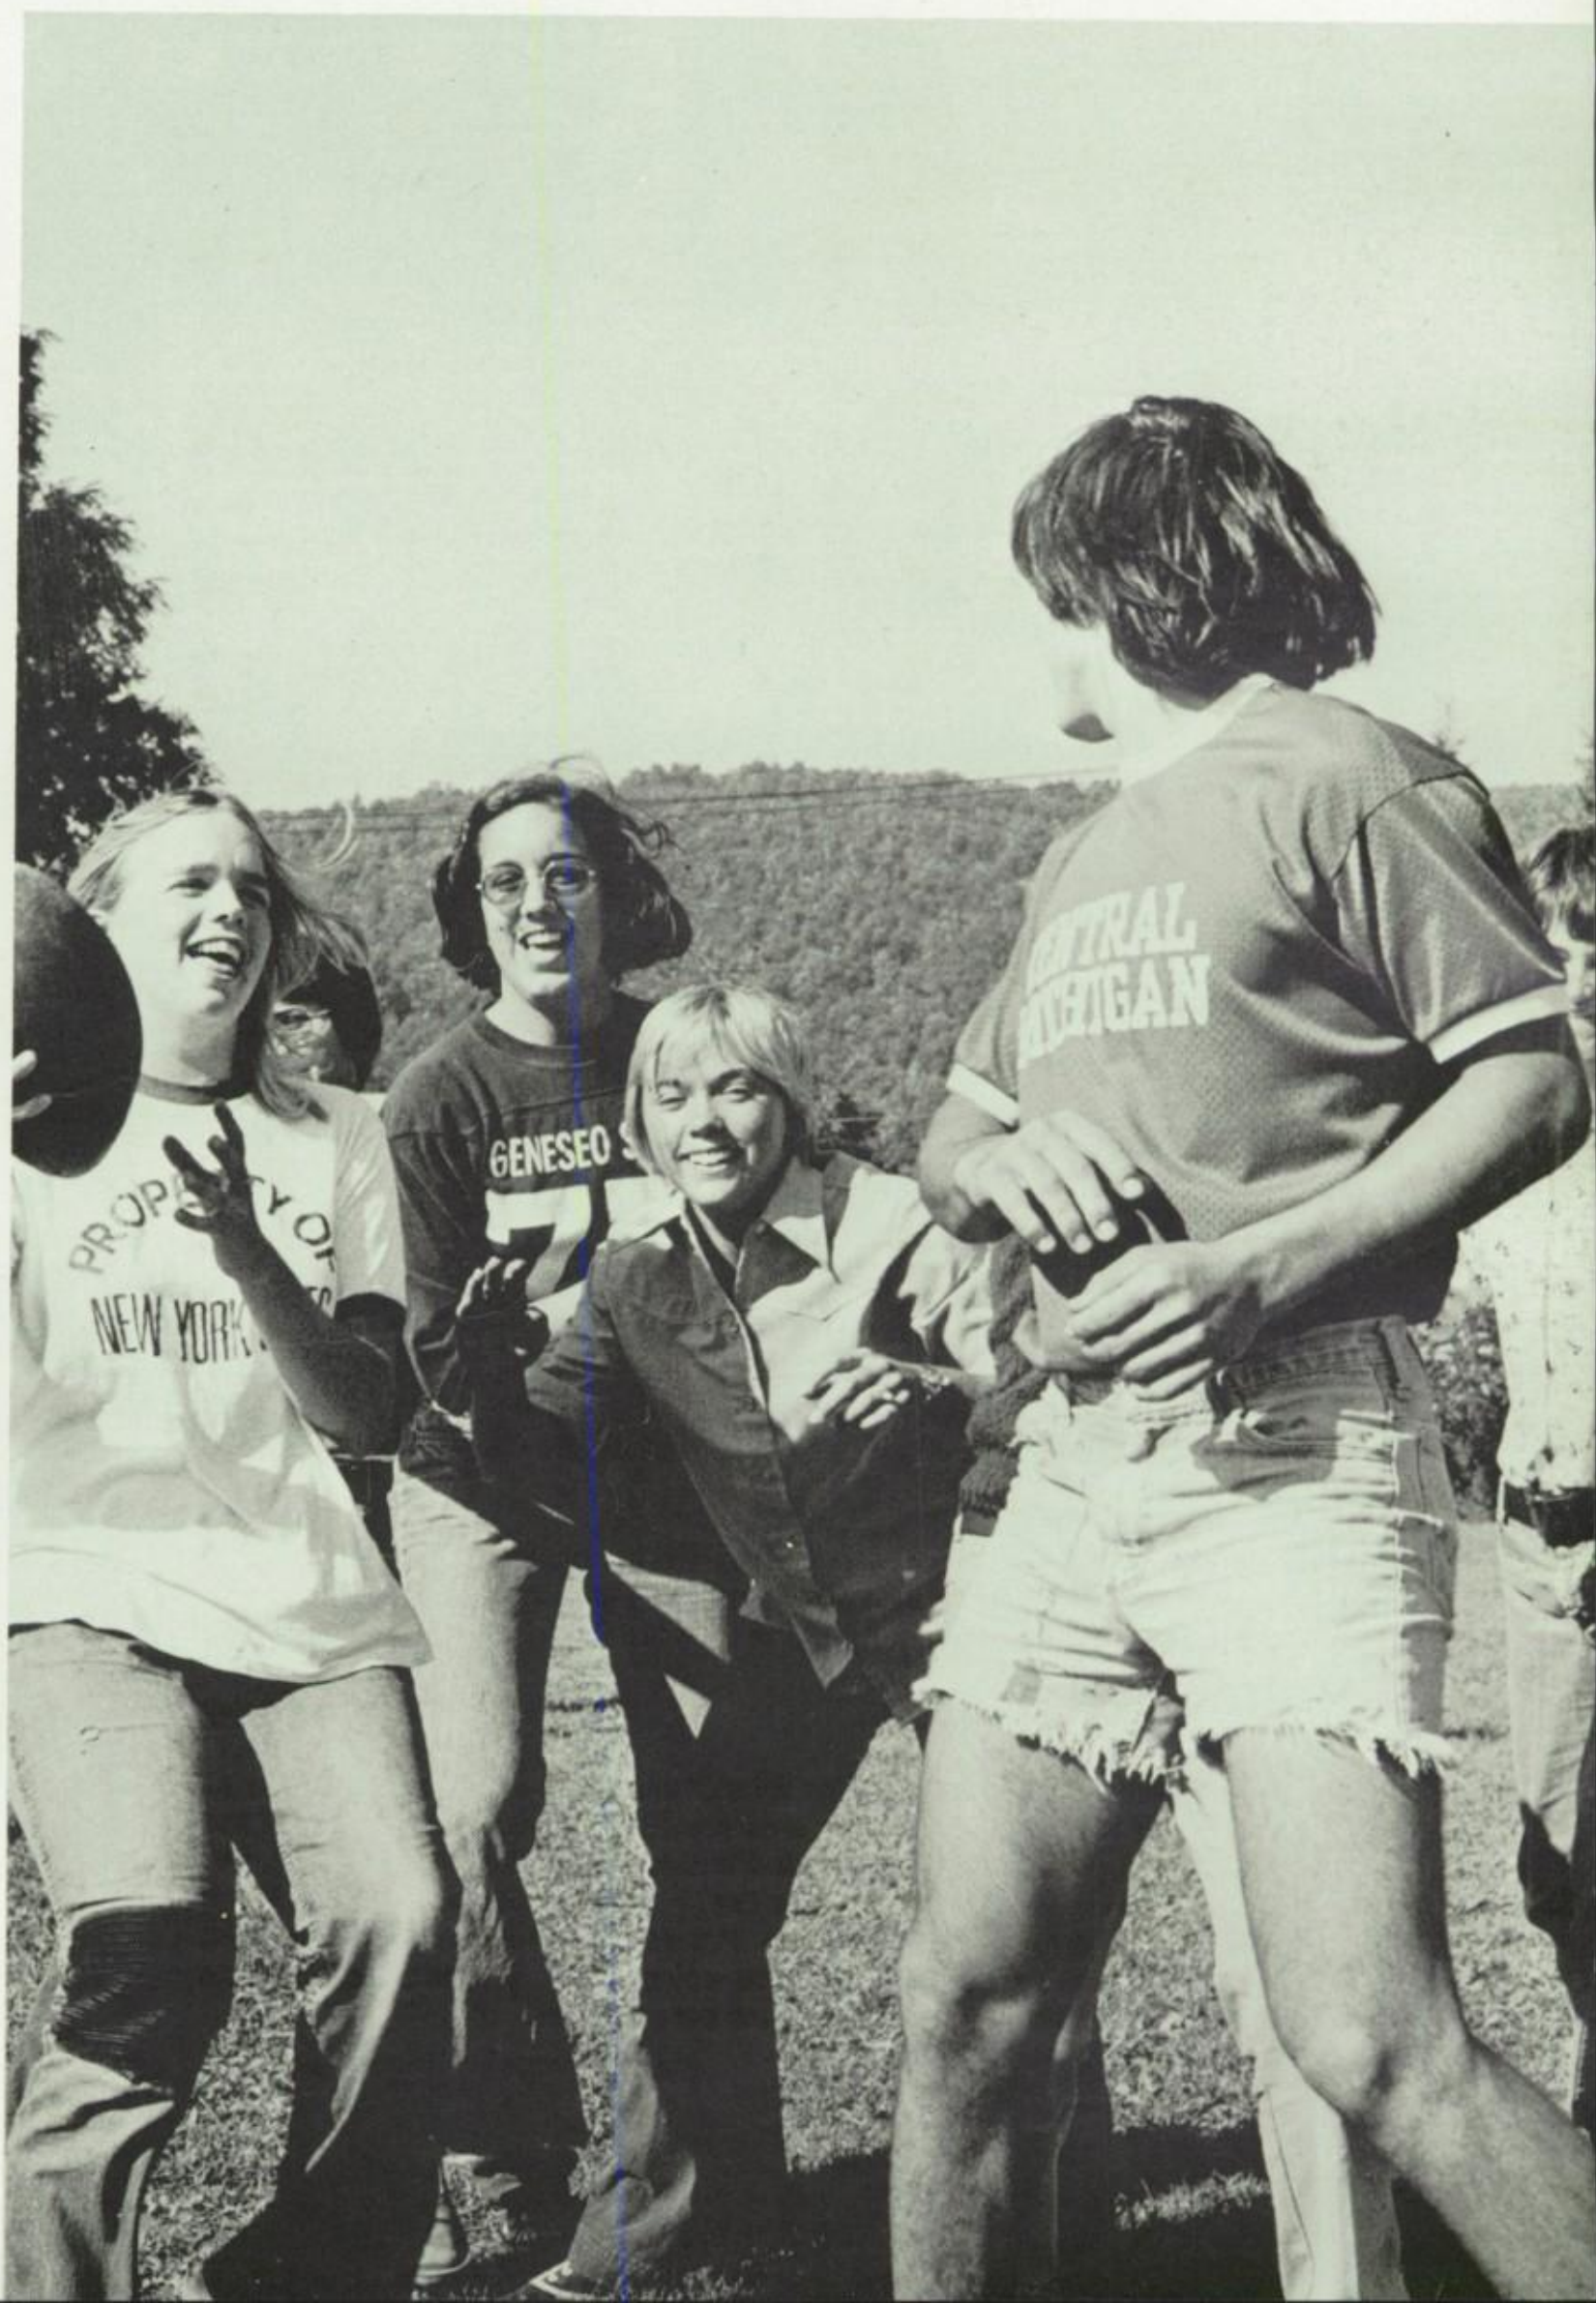

"The bench sure is crowded today!"

NEW IDEAS, NEW FACES, NEW FRIENDS

"Now if you need any help . . ."

"Where are those buses?"

"The men who have seemed to succeed best in life have always been cheerful and hopeful men, who went about their business with a smile on their faces and took the changes and chances of this mortal life like men, facing rough and smooth alike as it comes."

Charles Kingsley

Mr. Schmookler believes in the philosophy of this quote and shows it plainly as he goes about his business as our new assistant principal. Formerly of the Syracuse area where he taught retarded and learning disability students, Mr. Schmookler now works closely with the East High student body, helping to set up class events, projects and activities. His youthful outlook and refreshing ideas brought a new zest to East High. We welcome Mr. Schmookler and hope he spends many happy and fruitful years here at East.

V.I.P.'S

East High's special "guests" this year include Kathrin Gremlich from Switzerland, Rieko Izumitani from Japan, and Abiye Atnafu from Ethiopia.

Kate, our official AFS exchange student, is an avid skier and an asset to our music department. Rieko, who came to East as a junior, is one of the most valuable Girl's Varsity Volleyball players. Abiye, with his winning smile and engaging personality, has brought a lot of fun and laughter into the lives of many East High students.

All three are very special people and the ideas, thoughts, and good times shared with them will always bring back happy memories.

What Went on ... East High 1974-1975

Myrtle Beach Migration

This April, in the typical Corning fashion, the "Myrtle Beach Migration" took place. While in many communities the sounds and sights of Florida are appealing, the general consensus for this area seems to be "head for that little ocean town in South Carolina".

Don't get us wrong, there are some people who go to Florida. But if you ever took a stroll along the Myrtle Beach shores during this week, you'd never believe it! It seems that everyone is there—you just moved your backyard, that's all. And if you are "on the make" since your steady isn't around, don't plan on keeping it a secret because someone is sure to spot you.

However, this week spent with all your other fellow Corningites does have its advantages. There is always someone you know who can be counted on to swim, sunbath, or shop, and of course, the parties are too numerous to count.

For those who go, there are their suntans to show off back home, and always plenty of times to remember and to tell about.

East Hoods

It's hard to walk down the hall this year without seeing at least two or three hooded outfits. Everything from hooded sweaters to hooded jackets to hooded dresses. No one can decide if the hoods were designed to keep our ears warm during our 68° thermostat setting or if they're just the style. In any case, there is no doubt . . . at East High, the "hoods" are "in".

Hot Spots

The places you think of as so-called "Hot Spots" would probably depend on who your friends are and what you consider a good time. But when the topic of food is brought up, there are three or four places that seem to be indisputably more popular than the rest.

For lunch or a quickie dinner, MacDonalds seems to be the chosen spot, with the favorite meal being a cheeseburger, french fries and a coke. The Red Barn, another hamburger haven, pulls in the after-game crowds, with most people buying just french fries and a coke. On the other hand, there's Pudgies and Aniello's for the pizza lovers. As anyone can tell you, both places serve great, but distinctively different kinds of pizza and subs. It just depends on your mood.

We're very sorry if your favorite hot spot went unmentioned but if it's THAT hot, it may be better left untold!

A Big Mac, of Course

MacDonalds has come out with a real winner of a slogan that seems to have everyone pretty tongue twisted. "Two all beef patties, lettuce, onions, cheese, pickles and some sauce on a pumpernickel roll."

It's hard to turn the radio on or walk down the hall in school without hearing someone attempt to sing "The Big Mac Song." You may say "Oh, that's easy!"—but just try it sometime. Don't let your lettuce and onions get mixed up with the pickles and cheese before you put the special sauce on the sesame seed bun!

We can't put the rhythm down, but here are the words, in the right order, so you'll never forget them.

"Two all beef patties, special sauce, lettuce, cheese, pickles, onions on a sesame seed bun."

Musical Fare

Every year, as June draws closer and closer, the East High band and chorus become more anxious for their annual Eldridge Park Picnic. Plans for the yearly gala begin a few weeks before the actual date, as sign up sheets for brownies, cookies, etc. are passed around and everyone is reminded to bring in their money. That day is a mere festival of fun as homework is forgotten and cast aside until the next day when your math teacher reminds you that you had problems 21-33 to hand in as a take home test. However, everything becomes worth it once the desired destination is reached.

The most popular rides seem to include the roller coaster and the bumper cars while some kids prefer to spend their money playing Skeet Ball. It is not unusual to suddenly find that you've spent $3.00 worth of dimes just trying to win a glass mug which retailed for only $1.50

By the end of the evening, although everyone is full of food and tired from their busy day, the bus ride home still offers fun and excitement as everybody is filled with happy thoughts of next year's picnic at Eldridge Park.

Chosen Few

A survey of the student body, consisting of their favorite song, television show, and movie of this school year rated "Happy Days" as the number one show, while "Kojak" and "Rhoda" took second and third place.

The thought-provoking song "Mandy" by Barry Manilow was the majority's favorite song with "Lucy in the Skies" and "Laughter in the Rain" not far behind.

"The Trial of Billy Jack" starring Tom McLaughlin turned out to be the top rated movie. All the guys seemed to like "The Longest Yard" with Burt Reynolds while the girls swooned over Robert Redford and voted "The Sting" into a top position.

New Jerseys?

Will it be my red and blue plaid shirt or my number 20 football jersey? Decisions, decisions!! Even though the men's fashions are changing, our boys here at East seem to still go by the slogan, "if you're comfortable, you're happy". It's common to look around school and see many different football jerseys (it seems the older they are, the better!) and all the various colored plaid shirts. This trend may not leave room for new styles, but remember, "it's not WHAT you wear, but HOW you wear it"!!!

Library Loafers

No matter if it's "Seventeen" or "Sports Illustrated" you have just picked up—sit down and enjoy; It's a known fact that everyone needs at least a study hall a day to spend in the library catching up on the latest fashions and recipes or having a few good laughs with friends. In fact, rumor has it that some Seniors spend up to four periods a day sitting in the library reading their favorite magazines—to improve their reading speed of course! Well in any case, here's a little advice to future library loafers. At least pretend to be busy at work or you are bound to have Miss Grant reminding you that "If you are finished with your work, go back to your study hall and bother someone else!" So be careful and Happy Loafing!

Fight Song

"Let's give a cheer for East High; Cheer for all the team. Look at them on the field boys: They are on the beam. Let's sing this song together. They will bring us fame. Fight for East High, fight for East High. Win this ga-a-ame!"

Editors' note: A special thank you to SEVENTEEN MAGAZINE and their hot lines ideas, to our staff and Mr. Stalbird, and everyone at East High, because without you the life and spirit of these pages could never have been possible.

M.M. and C.A.

The First to...

Seniors—this is the time to stand up and speak your piece. Tell everyone just how disheartening it was to find out you were gonna be the punks of East High, instead of the bosses of Corning Free Academy or Northside Blodgett Jr. High Schools. At first we were thrilled to think we were going to be in the first Freshman class of East High, but like a new toy, its beauty quickly wore off. Those monstrous looking Seniors, the fiendish Juniors, and even the sophomores who were just as new as we were, made our tiny, nervous class feel like a rain cloud was overhead.

Now that we're Seniors, we think back, so long ago, to our Freshmen days and wonder why we then wanted so badly to be Seniors. We're really Freshmen who can drive after eight, legally hit the town, stay out till dawn (well . . .). You know, being a Senior isn't too bad, sometimes.

Converse

Converse. A word meaning to sit and chat awhile? Not around East High!

In a poll conducted this winter, the most popular type of sneaker by far was the Converse brand. Asked why they were willing to spend $14.00 on a pair of sneakers, the following reasons were given:

"They don't wear out"
"Support your arches"
"Cool"
"I don't know—they're just good, I guess"
"Comfortable"

With qualities like these, I guess you better "sneak off" Mr. Keds and J.P. Flyers.

"We May Never Pass This Way Again" . . . with this thought in their minds, the seniors dined, danced and partied the night of March 1st away. Wanting to leave the school environment behind, the class selected the Corning Hilton Inn to provide the setting and the Inn-Dependents were chosen to play the music from 9-1.

Mr. "A", senior class advisor, and Mr. Schmookler chaperoned the affair, and the hostess duties were handled by Kathy Patrick, Nancy Kittner, Anne Muccigrosso, Terry Ketchum, Karen Speciale, and Elaine Naples.

Upon entering the ball, couples were photographed and a complimentary picture was given to each girl. Punch and cookies galore were available, and after the dance, many private breakfast parties were held to finish off a memorable evening and the last prom that this class would ever share together.

PERSONS in the NEWS

RICHARD NIXON:

The former 37th President of the United States, Richard Nixon, became a private citizen once again nearly 26 months after the Watergate scandal had begun. Although he fought hard to retain his position, the disclosure of a damaging taped conversation brought about his resignation. On August 9, 1974, an unprecedented event occurred as America saw its first president ever voluntarily step down from his office.

GERALD FORD: The new President of the United States, Ford took office in the aftermath of Nixon's resignation and in the time since has continued the battle against inflation. His pardon of Nixon was met with a considerable margin of disapproval, yet, a God-fearing man, President Ford believes he did the right thing.

NELSON ROCKEFELLER:

The former governor of New York State, Rockefeller was sworn in as the Vice-President of the United States following extensive Senate hearings exploring his past activities

Each day we live, events on local, national, and international levels are taking place. Often times, we become too involved in our own personal affairs and close out the people and occurrences which are not directly concerned with our individual needs. When we stop for a moment and reflect about this past year, however, many events come to mind. Among these are urban renewal, inflation, energy crisis, and the ever-persisting Watergate scandal, which resulted in the inauguration of a new president in August, 1974 and a new vice-president in December, 1974. Since these events have helped to shape us and have played a role in determining the type of life that we have led, we thought it would be proper to record them here so that in later years, we can look back and remember exactly what was going on back in "those good old days" of 1974 and 1975.

MILESTONES of 1974-1975

KING FAISAL:

The King of Saudi Arabia was named Man of the Year for 1974 by TIME MAGAZINE. At this point in history, he is one of the most influential men of the world because of his power and ability to raise or lower oil prices.

HENRY AARON:

Aaron electrified the sports world on April 8, 1974 by hitting his 715th home run of his baseball career, thus breaking the record held by Babe Ruth for 39 years.

ELLA GRASSO:

The first woman governor in America whose husband did not precede her in the post. A Democrat, Mrs. Grasso won the election in Connecticut.

EVEL KNieVEL:

America's favorite dare-devil, Evel Knievel's attempt to cross the Snake River Canyon aboard a sky cycle last fall failed when a parachute opened prematurely. Knievel emerged unscathed. However, the possibility of a second try seems very remote.

PATRICIA HEARST:

Kidnapped in 1974 by the revolutionary group named the Symphonese Liberation Army, Miss Hearst still has not been found. It is believed that she has joined forces with the group, and the chances of finding her do not seem likely.

"Corning's New Look" continued this year as more ideas and projects planned in the aftermath of the 1972 flood reached completion. The Hilton Hotel had its ribbon-cutting ceremonies last spring and was used this year by the seniors for their Senior Ball. Similar ribbon-cutting ceremonies went on in the various parts of the city as the buildings housing the new library, city hall, and fire station were opened officially. The hospital also had a new cardiac unit built and the Dayspring Housing Project for the elderly opened. Other improvements were made on Market Street, where the old cement sidewalks were replaced with red brick walkways and planted trees.

Inflation pinches citizens.

INFLATION MARCHES ON

While the Arab states of the Mideast "wallowed in black gold", America suffered greatly while being caught up in her bleakest economic crisis in nearly thirty years. Productivity in U.S. industries slowed down while unemployment rose alarmingly. At the close of 1974, 6.5 of the nation's labor force was out of work — the highest percent in thirteen years.

Prices of goods were up 12%, hurting the people on fixed incomes, the poor and the elderly, the worst. Yet, although the retail food cost increased, the farmers got very little of this extra income, and to bring attention to their plight, they staged several mass slaughters of animals whose feed was too costly to buy and still make a profit.

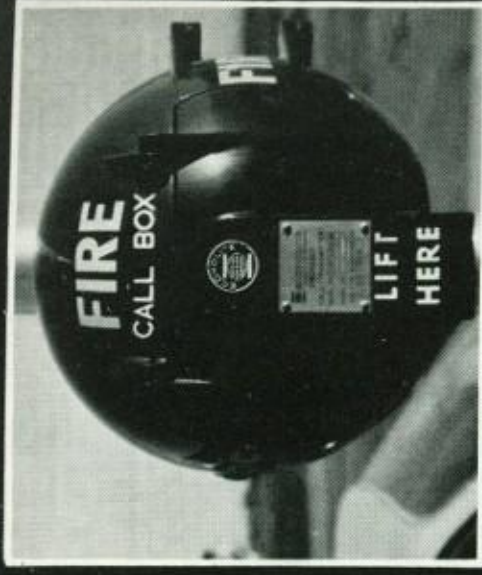

The stock market continued to suffer its biggest decline since the 1930's, affecting millions of Americans who saw their investments losing value. Also suffering a decrease was the value of the American dollar.

During 1974, the rulers of the Middle East oil producing nations controlled the world's supply of energy and altered the balance of the economic power over the entire globe.

This hard fact of being faced with a group of states who had influence over our economy along with the other factors combined to create a bewildering sense of being surrounded by an economic situation that could not be controlled. People began to shop more wisely. However, it was clear that with the close of the year 1974, many hard times had been suffered — and many people suspect that there are more to come.

(Editors' note: The above data and statistics were obtained from LIFE, the special winter report, 1975.)

The girls on Basketball '74 had a brand new, first ever, exhilarating experience . . . winning. After two straight seasons of frustration the girls finally put everything together for their first win against Edison, 25-22. What few people realize, however, is that there is sometimes more to be learned from losing than winning. With defeat comes an understanding that real victory lies in performing to one's capacity, in giving of yourself in a team effort. The girls on the team knew this all along, but a real win makes the knowing a little easier.

. . . One more for the old team!

The Attack!

YOUTHFUL ENTHUSIASM

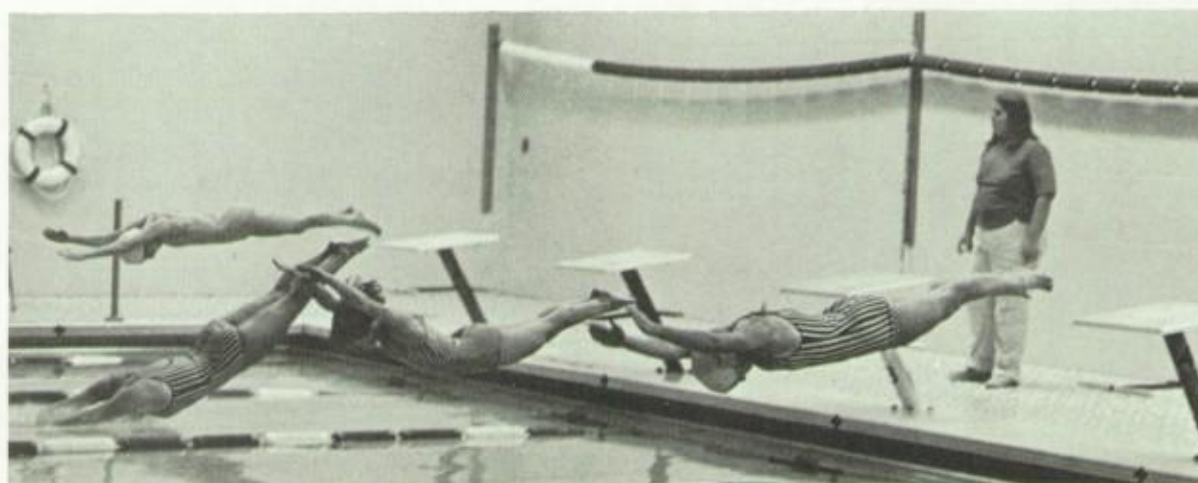

"Take a deep breath!"

Well . . . coach?

If there's one word for this year's girls swim team, it's potential. Their 5-9 record, compiled under new coach Miss Biagetti, is quite impressive when one considers that the team members are all underclassmen with tremendous capacities for improvement. It has been said that swimming is the optimum sport, requiring physical and mental facilities tuned to a fine edge. In practices and meets, the girls strived for this fine edge and for their pursuit of excellence and potential. They are to be admired.

First in . . . first finished.

WOMENS' LOB

Like any first year sport, girls tennis has a lot of growing to do. Coach Mrs. Kent spent a lot of time instilling her players with basics of the sport and tried to give them an understanding of the uniqueness of their chosen sport. A five match losing streak was terminated in three season's end victories. The team found its strong holds in Virginia Carpenter and Sharon Flynn and its encouragement from Mrs. Kent. Hopes for next year include new uniforms, an expanded schedule, and picking up right where they left off . . . winning.

"... If you work at it, it's golf."
—Bob Hope

What other sport besides golf can require the type of intense concentration a player needs to overcome great frustration, play down excitement, and just plain hang in there for three or four hours straight? Probably none, but as Mr. Watkins and his '74-'75 team will tell you, all that hard work pays off; they proved it by winning the Valley Invitational Tournament beating Sayre, Waverly and good ole West High. Overall the season saw a well rounded team post a 4-5 record, and provide some close and very interesting matches, along with good golf.

... and here's Paul!

ACROSS THE COUNTRY

Muscle men?

. . . to victory

Those few minutes

"... A few minutes at least ... when he is utterly alone."

T.P. Wilson

Cross country competition goes beyond the depth of most sporting events. A cross country runner is a unique individual. He faces each race with the knowledge that in defeat he can look only to himself for rationalization and, appropriately, any victory would belong to him alone. To be successful, a cross country runner must meet unparalleled physical and mental strains and overcome them. Richard Pitbladdo, Pat Tracey, Tim Townsend, Larry Burgess, and Mike Kane met well with these strains this year and were all key factors in compiling the 4-7-1 record reached by Ken Moss' team.

Don't look now!

SWIMMING:

Mr. Sellers, a familiar voice on many mornings announcing the accomplishments of his team, again coached the boys' swim team with its good group of returning swimmers. Competition in the Sullivan Trail League was extremely tough this year, and the members of this team met these challenges well. New to the season this year was a league meet at Horseheads, Feb. 14-15, a warm-up for the sectionals held this year in Rochester. Representing East High in the Section V meet were Andy Poole, Greg Behm, Mike Burns, Rodger Keenan and Carl Turissini. Qualifying for individual events in the sectionals were Ron Vang (50 and 100 freestyles), Jim Turissini (50 and 100 freestyles), Mark Jones (100 butterfly), Rodger Keenan and Tony Rossi, who holds the one meter diving school record, both qualified for the diving event.

Congratulations to graduating seniors and good luck to those individuals returning for the 1975-1976 season.

A penny for their thoughts!

NOT SUCH A BAD IDEA AFTER ALL

Why do girls become cheerleaders? What do they get out of the hours of tiring practicing, and the time spent making signs and decorating? Well, those are pretty good questions and it takes some digging to find the answers. It could be that cheerleading gives a girl a sense of belonging to something she considers important. It seems that in their efforts to generate that strange phenomenon called school spirit, a kind of kinship and closeness develops among the cheerleaders that transcends differences which might ordinarily be reasons for discord. Above and beyond this, cheerleaders have lots of fun and with the gloom and problems that hang over so many things these days, that's not such a bad reason for being a cheerleader.

WHAT'S A HALFTIME WITHOUT

By now the Trojettes are a tradition at East High; half-time at a football game certainly would not be the same without the spirit, pep, and enthusiasm of this 36 girl team. This season was a very successful one for everyone involved — Miss Bruns, the advisor, Cathy Brion, the captain and the entire working unit of girls.

In working as a member of the Trojette team, a girl encounters long hours of loyalty, hard work, and discipline, yet she enjoys what she is doing and transfers her enjoyment and excitement to audiences at games and pep assemblies. The Trojettes' long, hard weeks of practice always boil down to one final reward — the warm applause after each performance.

East High can take great pride in such a special kind of team. Congratulations, girls, on a very successful and much appreciated year.

THE REAL WINNERS

Touchdown!

Let us at 'em!

Football '74 was a different kind of season. Neither the Varsity nor Jayvee records were impressive, but the importance of the season merits a closer look. The teams this year had new coaches and attitudes. Football took four months of physical and mental strain from the lives of each participant this year. Each player is to be admired for his personal sacrifice, but those to be most admired are the ones who learned well the lessons of a long season. The lessons that say that the world doesn't stop if you don't win the game. The lessons of giving your best in any situation. The lessons you have to learn the hard way. The players who knew this won everytime they took the field.

And he's off!

Way ta be!

WRESTLERS: DISCIPLINED AND DEDICATED

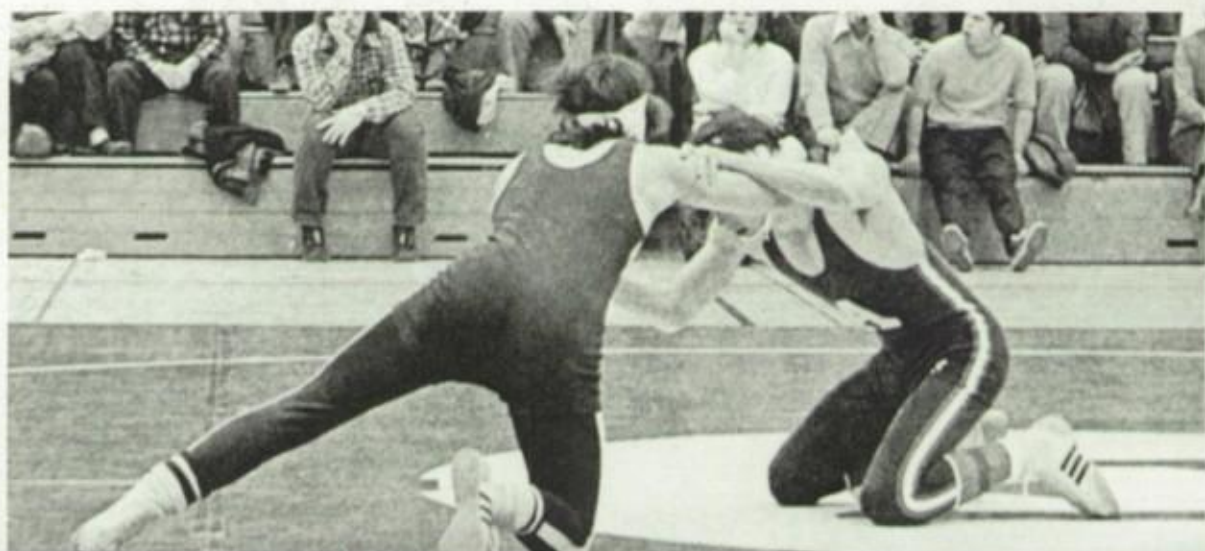

To takedown or not to takedown . . .

Varsity Squad: ROW 1: Dan Wilcox, 98 lbs., Ed Hale, 105 lbs., Scott Cooley, 112 lbs., Mark Darcangelo, 119 lbs., Scott Canedy, 128 lbs., Gordon Joris, 132 lbs., Ron Corey, 138 lbs. ROW 2: Mike Lacombe, 128 lbs., Jeff Ayers, Heavyweight, Wayne Blackwell, 177 lbs., Coach Joe Corcoran, Bill Dolley, 167 lbs., Dan Sharman, 155 lbs., Mark Scouten, 145 lbs.

Our man Dan on top.

Victory . . .

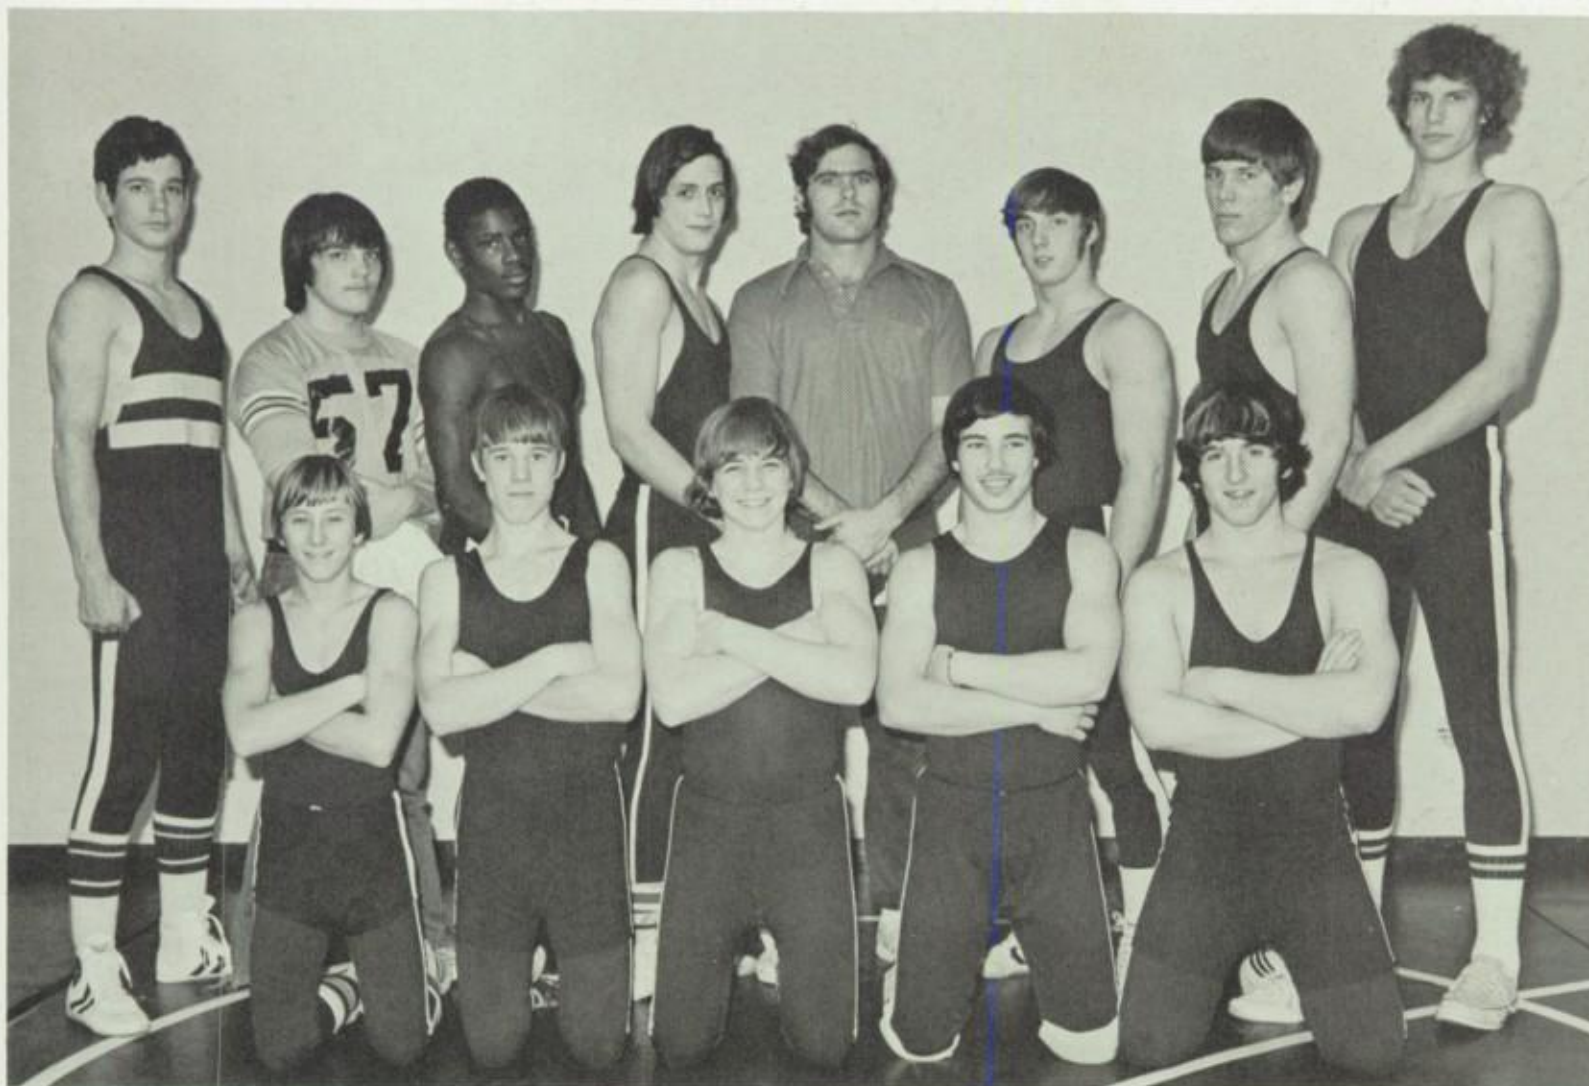

How sweet it is.

J.V. Squad: ROW 1: Cary Waters, 98 lbs., Bob Russell, 199 lbs., Ron Blodgett, 128 lbs., Tom Haischer, 132 lbs., Todd English, 155 lbs. ROW 2: John Bressler, 145 lbs., Steve Birmingham, 177 lbs., Wayne McMillan, 145 lbs., Rick Wiedmaier, 167 lbs., Coach Dave Reed, Mark Davis, 145 lbs., Steve Gleason, 167 lbs., Bryan Bennett, 177 lbs. Absent: Rick Costello, 138 lbs.

Wrestling is beginning to get off the ground at East. This year's team was coached by Mr. Corcoran and Mr. Reed and was bigger than in previous years. Also, increased school and community interest is a heartening factor in efforts to develop a more respected program. These efforts are aided in part by the "Take-down" Program sponsored by the National Wrestling Hall of Fame. It entails wrestlers securing pledges to be collected for their season's take-downs. A modest percentage of the profits goes back to the Hall of Fame while the bulk of the money collected is used by the team to finance equipment or make other improvements to build their program.

In addition to the fact that this year's team was bigger, they were also highly disciplined and trained. Practice was strenuous and daily, including Saturdays. While June will see a significant loss of past lettermen, some standouts will still remain and the prevalent sentiment among coaches and squad members alike is, "Wait'll NEXT Year!"

Stretch!

Traditionally, the J.V. and Freshmen basketball teams are the stuff that future varsity squads are made of. If the rule holds, our varsities should be in good shape for a few years. This years' J.V. team, under Coach Ed Craumer, compiled an impressive string of victories. The freshman teams' record was also good and both teams worked well as units. The frosh were coached by Mr. Harry Goodman and displayed a unique team spirit, even while some of the players didn't go to East but attended Northside Blodgett. These squads, writing yet another chapter in the sports history of East High, promise good basketball players with past experience to round off those future varsity teams.

TALENTED, YOUNG AND SURPRISING

The 1974-75 basketball team was coached, as it has been for the past few years, by Glenn Patton. There ends all similarities with teams in our recent history. This team was very young, sporting only two seniors, Bud Dahlgren and Dave Slymon. At the risk of sounding repetitive, the thing that dignified this year's team was the amount of talent available, not the record compiled. The teams' main problem, that of "getting it all together" was overcome on several occasions, notably in the one point triumph over Horesheads, the division leaders. The result of concentrated effort, hard work, and sacrifice was a team that ended up surprising many people. Standout juniors Kevin Rahill and Bob Morse and sophomore Jim Rosetti served notice to opposing teams that they will all be around for awhile, and next year NO ONE will be surprised.

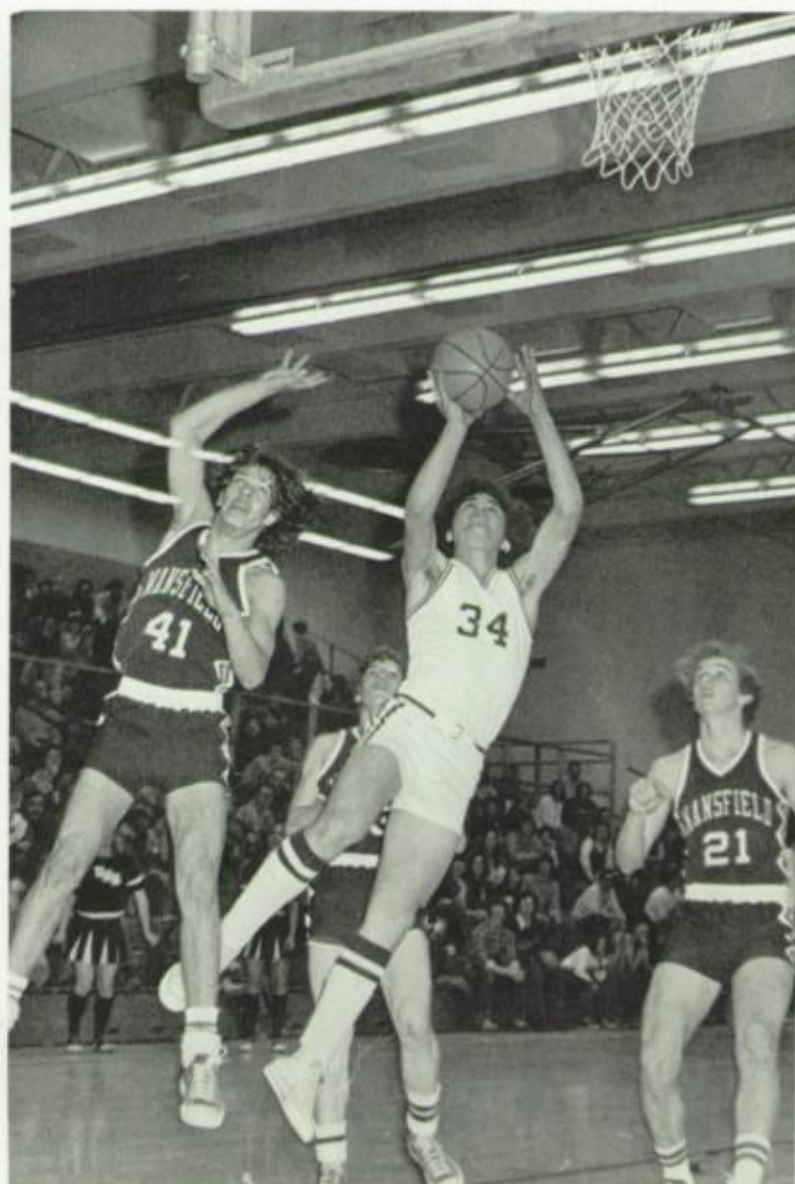

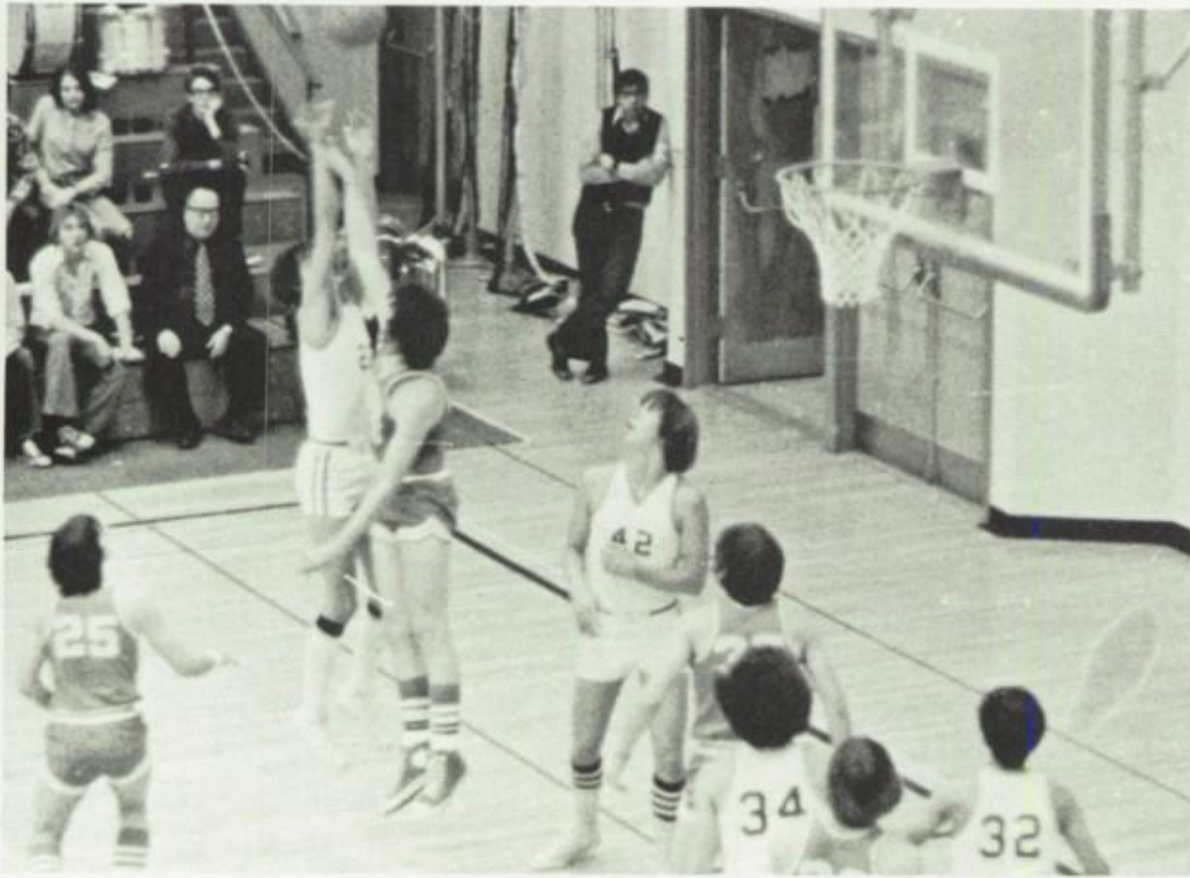

"Hey, What's the big idea?"

Back away, I'm comin' through!

Slymon up for two.

Students talk about the prevailing apathy in East High. Even though there was some apathy among a small number of the members of Student Council, the concerned members accomplished many things this year. Student Council, with the sound advice of Mr. Ehrman and Mr. Schmookler, completed work on a new constitution. They again sponsored the homeroom decorations for the East-West football game. They investigated the problems that would result from the suggested smoking lounges for the high schools and discussed alternative proposals. A committee of members worked on a program for Easter Seals. Action was the word for Student Council this year.

SCHOLARS FOR SERVICE

Scholarship

What exactly does the Honor Society do? The first thing that is usually taken care of is Fall Induction. This is a big day for the whole Honor Society. It means the induction of fellow classmates. The seniors that were inducted on Dec. 17, 1974 are Debbie Backer, Sue Bennett, Tina Ceilelli, Joan Cleveland, Bud Dahlgren, Roe Frey, Emil Harnas, Jim Lesser, Paula Lesso, Nancy Mapes, Richard Olinger, Rick Peck, David Russell, Bob Sinkewicz, Dana Spaccio and Paul Williams.

Honor Society also sells the Tootsie Roll Pops that you see around school. Where does all of this money go? Honor Society contributes to many worthy causes. A good share of this money is also used on inductions. Spring Inductions are usually the last item on the agenda for the Honor Society. The Honor Society is then in the hands of next year's seniors.

Looking the future in the face!

A.F.S.

A.F.S. club has been working with the odds against it this year. Not only is the club functioning with fewer people than usual, but it also came into conflict with democracy in action. Workers for the United Parcel Service decided to strike, incidentally stranding 1,000 booster buttons ordered for the East-West football game. However, the A.F.S. club decided to solve that problem by selling the buttons before the last East-West basketball game.

In addition to their button sale, the A.F.S. club was involved with raising money by selling pecans. The money will be used to help defray the expenses of the foreign exchange students. The members of A.F.S. also have the pleasant task of helping the foreign exchange students adjust to life in the United States. For instance, they helped this year's student, Kate Gremlich, by introducing her to other students, helping her find her classes, and just being friendly.

A.F.S. club isn't all work, however. They also plan outings just for fun. Also, each member has the pleasure of learning more about other countries and cultures.

Members of the Photography Club take pictures for the yearbook. Because they are students, they are able to photograph in a way that most of our professionals cannot, capturing the real spirit of the school in pictures of their classmates. They have a darkroom in the A.V. room where they develop these pictures and pictures of their own. Their contribution to the yearbook is valuable and appreciated.

The Audio Visual Club is another club that provides a valuable contribution to the school. Members maintain equipment stored in the A.V. room, and also distribute it to teachers and collect the equipment when the teachers are through. They also provide classroom films and other instructional aids. With their advisor, Mr. Remchuck, they are the kind of club that no one notices when they are around, but if they ever disappeared disaster!

Is French cooking good for your Health?

The French Club's second year of life was one of mixed successes and failures. The first project of the year was rather discouraging. Members sold popcorn to finance a trip to Canada only to see the trip scrapped because of lack of interest. However "le cercle de francais" did enjoy a successful caroling expedition at Christmas and a trip to Rochester to view the play "Le Petit Prince."

The members of Health Club are organized to assist the community and school through their projects. This year, as in past years, the Health Club has collected canned foods for the needy, and held bake sales to help finance their field trips. They are planning to take a field trip to an Upstate Medical Center for an orientation on health careers.

Mrs. Poletto, advisor, is pleased with the steady increase in interest towards the Health Club, and hopes that student support will continue. This was a busy year for our Health Club.

One needs to spend some time in the wilds to see himself in perspective with the rest of creation and to observe first hand the storied "balance of nature" in all its practical splendor. The Ecology Club, through its backpacking trips, offers this experience to its members. But don't think belonging to ecology club is one big camping trip. Members conducted a canned goods drive at Christmas and tried all year to mobilize a paper recycling program. In addition, the club, advised by Mrs. Lynch, contributes every year to the school's collection of backpacking equipment.

The Pep Club is a new addition to East High this year. The interest of a few girls developed into this spirited cheering section dedicated to supporting our Trojan athletic teams. Because of a late fall season start, the girls were present at the final few football games, but plan to be ready for full football and basketball seasons next year. They designed as a group and individually purchased Trojan sweatshirts to wear to school and home games.

ATHLETES OF THE YEAR

CHOSEN IN SPRING

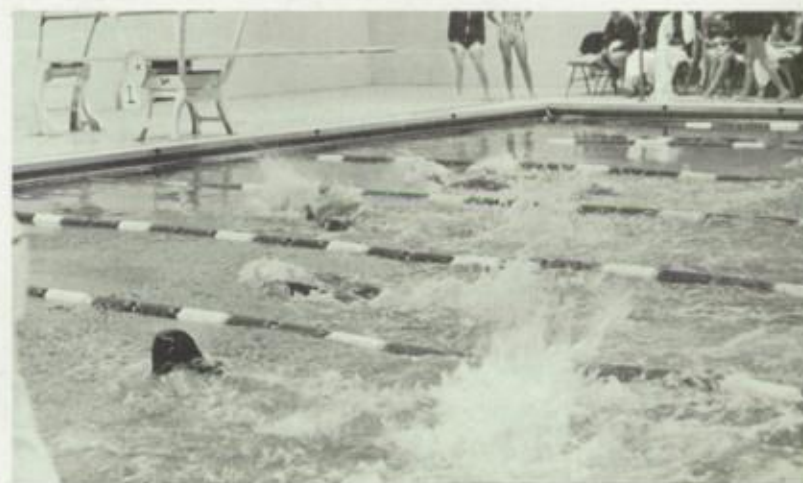

As individuals . . .

As teams . . .

With few exceptions, participants in varsity sports have to meet the commitment of a disciplined group effort, while not allowing themselves to be submerged in the group. The Varsity "E" club recognizes that a girl who has contributed enough to earn a letter has fulfilled this commitment well. The club is advised by Miss Christopher and the range of sports represented makes for a widely varied group. Each spring the members are honored at the annual letter banquet and the winner of the Athlete of the Year award is chosen from among their ranks.

G.A.A. ENJOYS BANNER YEAR

This year along with their usual activities such as intramurals and maintaining the basketball concession stand, G.A.A. introduced a new sports program, consisting of Junior-Senior and Sophomore-Freshman competition. Games included flag football, field hockey, and bowling. Among other games planned are volleyball, track and softball. The girls' accomplishments this year show their increasing enthusiasm toward their athletic association.

ALL ROUND ATHLETES

Anyone who has earned a Varsity letter automatically becomes a member of Boys' Varsity "E". A quick glance at the list of sports represented in the club might look a little like a roster at the annual "Superstar" competition, but the members don't merely rest on their letter laurels. This year they sponsored the Annual Christmas Tournament and various other projects to raise funds for benefiting the school athletic department. The club is advised by Mr. Corcoran and has long been a recognized asset to the school.

WHY DO PEOPLE PLAY CHESS?

Why do people play chess? East High chess players answered that question in a startling variety of ways. For example: "It's a civilized form of warfare." "Chess is a challenge, a way of exercising one's mental ability." "Well . . . uh . . ." "Playing chess is a good way to waste time intellectually." "When I play chess I pretend that the pieces are people I don't like, and then I clobber 'em!" "I enjoy the challenge of trying to anticipate my opponents' reactions and analyze their strategies." "When I play chess, it's because I don't have anything better to do." "Actually I don't play much, but I WATCH a lot."

EXTRA, EXTRA, DESIDERATUM

Mr. Cayea Advisor

The second year for DESIDERATUM was a difficult one, but many new ideas have come forth concerning how to give the students a students' newspaper. '74-'75 saw the first printed issues of the paper and there is evidence that interest is starting to catch on. With Mr. Cayea as their advisor, the editors and staff have done their best to give students a paper they will enjoy and also use as a means of expressing their ideas and creativity. No one can ask them for more than that.

Library Council is an ever-popular organization. Members take one study hall every week to help with shelving, stamping and checking out books and keeping the library in order. They also have occasional teas: for new members, for Christmas and at the end of the year. Although unassuming, the library council is an integral part of the workings of the school, assisting students and teachers in obtaining needed information.

TESTING 1, 2, 3 . . .

The Radio Club has been established as a cooperative group for members of East and West High. One of their goals has been to present weekly programs that will interest the high-school student and give him a voice in community broadcasting. Radio club, which was arranged by Ed Hall, is important in another way in that it offers good opportunities to students who may be considering a career in broadcasting.

TEACHERS LEARN TO FLY RIGHT

The Future Teachers Association is advised by Mr. Carlineo and attracts many interested members. This year the members tutor weekly at Kent Phillips School and assist the teachers in the classrooms. Although there is no guarantee that all the members will become teachers they will gain valuable experience in relating to people and communicating with them. Through teaching, they learn; an excellent arrangement.

THINK SNOW

Everyone knows that the main purpose of the Ski Club is-of-course-to ski. But did you ever wonder WHY seemingly sane people slide down a mountain at breakneck speed with two boards strapped to their feet? Skiers at East say . . .

"Why? Well, why not?"

"Because it's the nearest you can come to flying, and still keep your feet on the ground."

"It's fun; that's all."

"What do you mean, why do I ski? I ski because I ski."

What do people like best about skiing?

"The speed—the feel of the ice and snow."

"Going down."

"Not having time to worry about a lot of other nonsense."

"The Challenge."

"Eating at the lodge."

What do they think about when they ski?

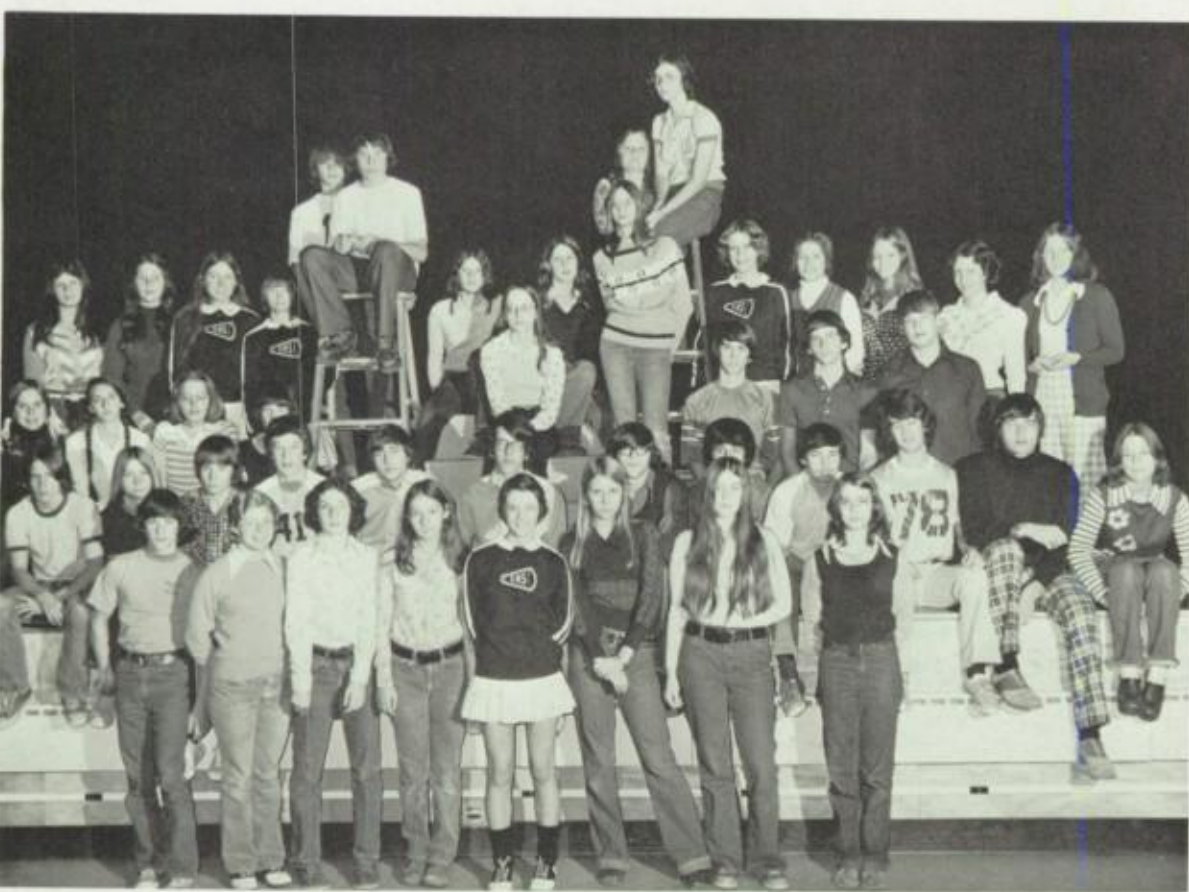

"Avoiding the person ahead of me."

"Important things."

"How cold I am."

"Not breaking my neck."

"The next hill."

RADIO CITY HERE WE COME

ROW 1: Fred Hoke, Lynn Araujo—Publicity manager, Emil Harnes—Vice president, Connie Hoke—President, Ed Hall. ROW 2: Marcia Mann, Liz Daugherty—Secretary, Kate Bennet, Cindy Ahlgren, Ken Beard. ROW 3: Scott Martin, Chris Stone, Todd Martin, Debbie Cunningham, Sue Whitney—Treasurer.

"Radio City, here we come!" That's the slogan that was frequently used by the Thespians this year as they planned their spring trip to New York City. With the help of the newly formed Drama Club and many bakesales and candy sales their fund raising goal was reached and the trip was a success.

Along with the many one-acts performed this year the two clubs also aided the senior class with the production of THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER. The Thespians closed their year with the induction of new members in their annual inductions ceremony.

CULTURE

LINE, 2,3,4, LINE

Line, 2,3,4, line . . . were familiar sounds heard fifth and sixth periods, during Football season, while marching band was out on the field practicing. Field director, Mr. Martini, would be seen (and heard) shouting directions through his portable loud speaker, and Mr. Fisher attempted to keep lines straight, while Mr. Rossi viewed the show from the stands. Learning new formations for each half-time show was no easy task, but certainly was a lot of fun.

Keep in step, Mr. Martini.

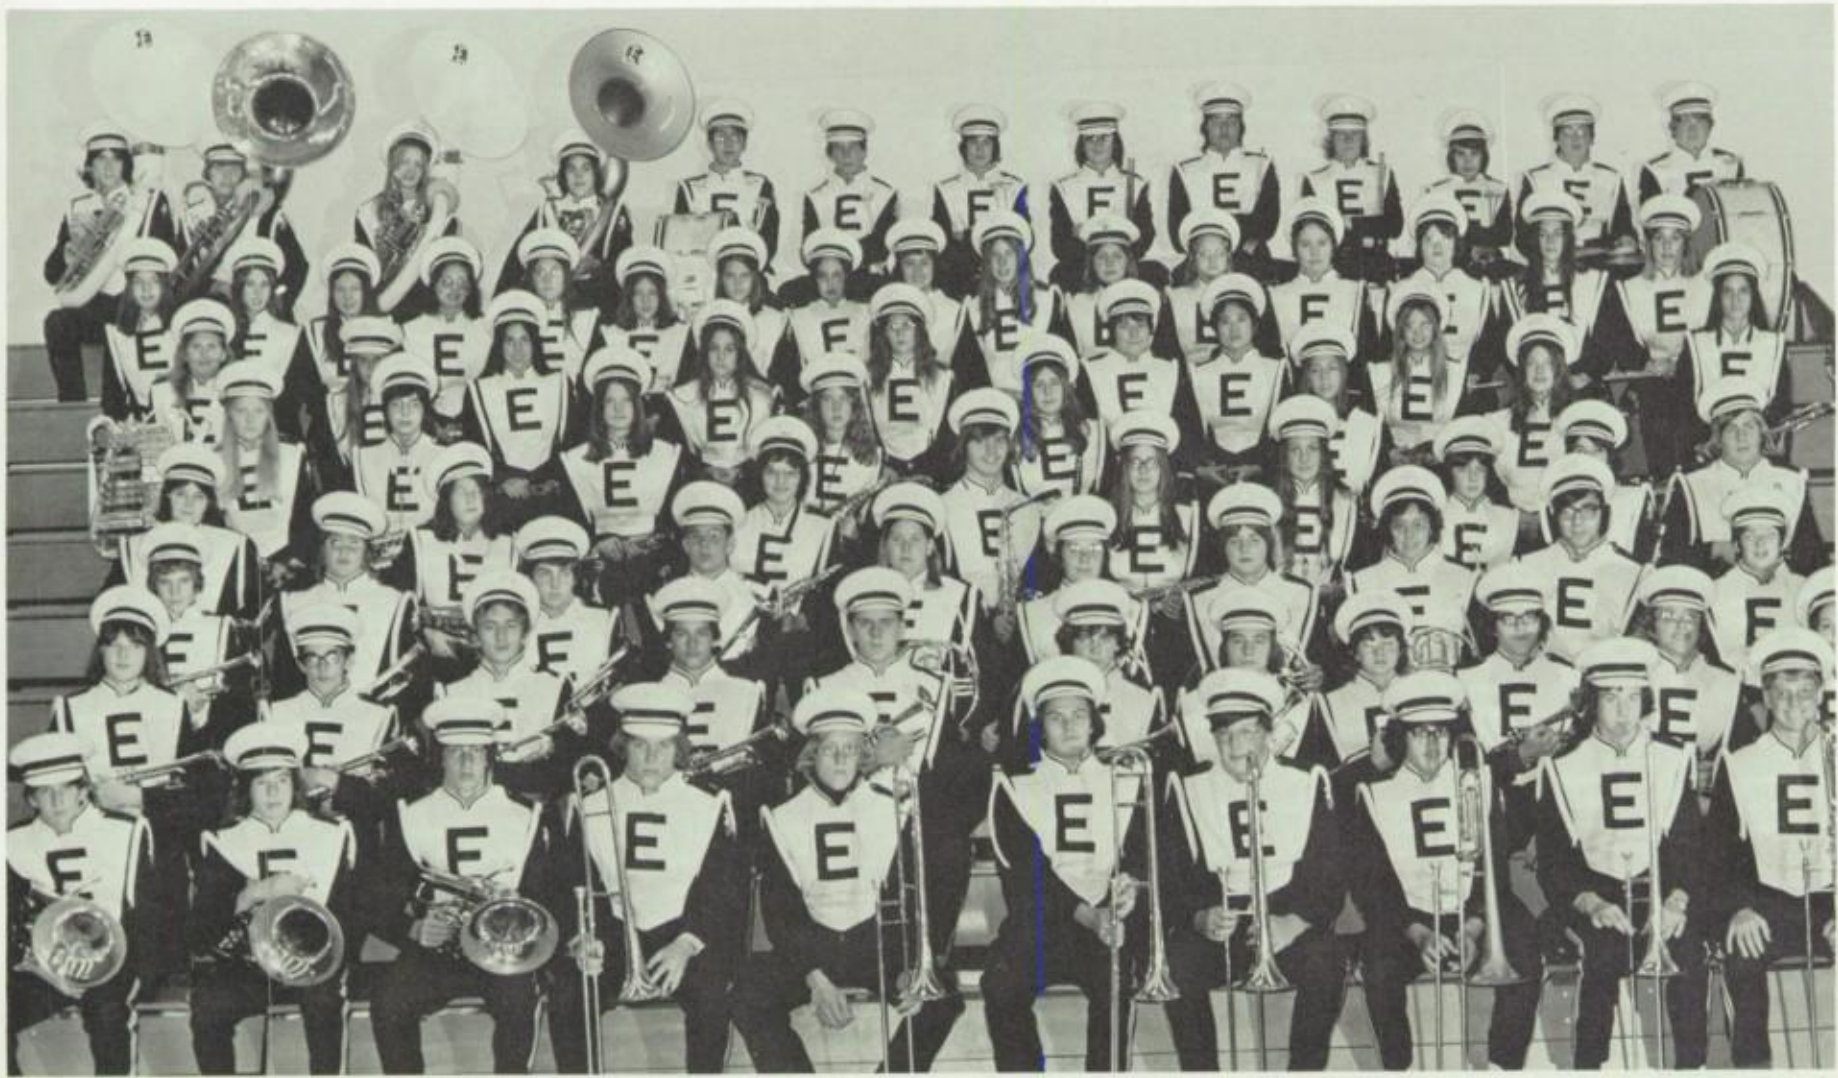

Pit tries to help out the cheerleaders.

Play it again.

Get in place, Mr. Fisher.

HALF-TIME ENTERTAINMENT

A tribute to Duke Ellington

Bottoms up!

Line 2,3,4, . . .

Pit leads the band!

What is a football game without the halftime shows? This past year the school spirit has been enlivened by the Marching Band, Color Guard, and Majorettes.

The Color Guard contributed to all of the football games by marching their way onto the field to begin the half-time shows. Under Mr. Stalbird's direction these girls learned to stay in step at all times.

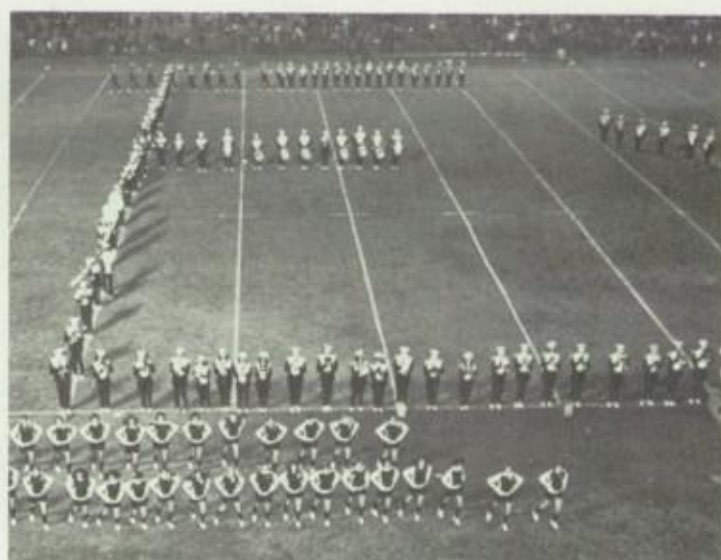

The Majorettes gave us many enjoyable routines during the football season, also. Mrs. Hudzinski's professional touch could be noted in all the girls' presentations. Most stimulating were the fire-twirling finales. All in all the Majorettes added excitement and brilliance to boost the school spirit.

CONCERT BAND

The concerted effort of each single member, under the direction of the exceptional band leader, "J.R.", makes for a multi-talented group that brings the joy of music to all who participate and to their audience. The various numbers, which include a wide range from popular music to classical, are practised diligently for months, the members aspiring near-perfection for their annual spring concert.

Concert Band members: PICTURE 1: Sherry Prisella, Carol White, Mary-Claire Krebs, Pat Costa, Eunice Divins, Betsy Said, Kim Kiehl, Bev Stergion, Ellen Krampf, Julie Patrick, Liz Dougherty, Fay Brown, Laurie Williamson, Jeff Blough, Peter Wright, Karen Morrissey, Mike McKerrow, Joe Celelli, John Hoover, Dave Webb, Tom Allen, Jack Rossi (director), Brian Rutledge, Scott Young, Val Townsley, Brian Morse, Jim O'Brien, Tom Hill, Greg Behm, Doug Miller, Paul Turevon, Glenn Levine, Steve Gleason, Mark McKerrow, Shep Hildebrand.

The last of the big bands.

DANCE BAND

This year was one of many first in the music department as well as a year of perpetuating traditions. It was the first year for a wind ensemble. The wind ensemble is made up of selected members of concert band who meet twice weekly to study various advanced musical compositions. Their first public appearance was at the annual spring concert. It was also the first year students have had available to them a piano lab, used in theory classes to increase student's key board technique.

Another and probably the most popular first, was the Band Room Float. The giant replica of a Martini and Rossi bottle and the caricatures of two famous band leaders of the same name were meticulously built to scale by a healthy number of "spirited" band members.

On the side of traditions stands Dance Band, "perennial as the grass". Their selections cover a range of Benny Goodman to "Superstar." In general the musical abilities of Dance Band members are extensive and their repertoire is aired at various assemblies and concert presentations.

So a happy blend of the old and new has faded into another year; but first, last and always there is music.

ORCHESTRA

Townsley, Cathy Golden, Kate Gremlich, Pat Driscoll, Fay Brown, Kim Kiehl, Ellen Krampf, Kathy Wright, Betsy Liptak, Marja Schreurs, Kathy Elmer, Marilyn Hamm.

Plink, plink, plink.

One more time . . .

"... Your music pleases no one unless it is heard." The diverse musical talents of the members of the orchestra have been orchestrated by Miss Batson and the result is a versatile performing group. All members share one common trait: their devotion to music; a devotion which is reflected in their performances.

No discussion among percussion.

All together now!

Pay attention, Stone.

The choristers and madrigals had a successful year this year. In line with "first" elsewhere, this was the first year that choristers was scheduled for five days a week. Under the direction of Mrs. Homan choristers gave two Christmas concerts to the school, one to the general public. They also sang at the Rotary luncheon, an endeavor which has become a yearly tradition, and at a spring concert open to the public. The madrigals is a group of select members of choristers, and like choristers it is directed by Mrs. Homan. They participated in all of the programs with the choristers, performing more complicated choral arrangements including solo presentations.

MADRIGAL SINGERS

Madrigal Members: Howard Curtis, Mark Austin, Ellen Krampf, Kate Nasser, Connie Hoke, Cathy Brion, Mark Jones, David Smith, Andrea

Baird, Kate Gremlich, Mark McKerrow, Emil Harnas, Lynn Araujo, Greg Behm, Joan Cleveland, Nancy Darcangelo.

J.V. CHORUS

GIRLS CHORUS

Girls Chorus Members: ROW 1: Sylvia Jones, Leslie Flannery, Patty Steele, Donna Taylor, KIKI Lando, Margaret Quatrini, Donna Coleman, Diane Miller, Rita Battista, Kim Tylor, Sheila May. ROW 2: Cathy Elton, Diane Duffy, Kathy Patrick, Jill Garner, Patty Driscoll, Linda Bartholomay, Marv Anderson, Donna Barrett. ROW 3: Cindy Patrick, Lisa Cadden, Kathy Carlson, Debbie Bixby, Debbie Ferree, CiCi Wilson, Anita Chimera, Mary Lagola, Susan Green.

Girls and J.V. chorus performed in the Christmas concerts and the spring concert, impressing audiences with the enjoyment members seemed to derive while performing. Like all the other choral groups, Mrs. Homan is their director. They concentrate mostly on the fundamentals of choral singing, gathering valuable experience for future singing endeavors. The most important aspect of these groups is the fact that they perform for love of singing, giving their greatest success.

CHORALAIRES

Choralaire Members: Katie Nasser, Marcia Mann, Ann Fairchild, Cathy Brion, Andrea Baird, Connie Hoke, Joan Cleveland, Nancy Darcangelo.

You call this music??

LES CHANTEUSES

The Choralaires, Les Chanteuses, and Notables are the small, exclusively female singing groups which perform at the spring concert specializing in popular songs and romantic ballads. All three groups are directed by Mrs. Homan. Choralaires is restricted to seniors, Les Chanteuses is made up of only Juniors, and Notables are all sophomores.

A creative addition to our pool.

Man's will to express himself artistically has been with us almost since the beginning of time. Dye sketches on cave walls, as well as the masterpiece of the Louvre are all common in their expression of a human thought. The art program at East gives students an opportunity to express their ideas. The products of their expressions find display in the show cases all year round, as well as in the lobby Christmas decorations and the many special displays and showings. The art club's endeavors bring pleasure to many but the most important aspect of the club is the expressive outlet it opens to participants.

Mr. Postle Advisor.

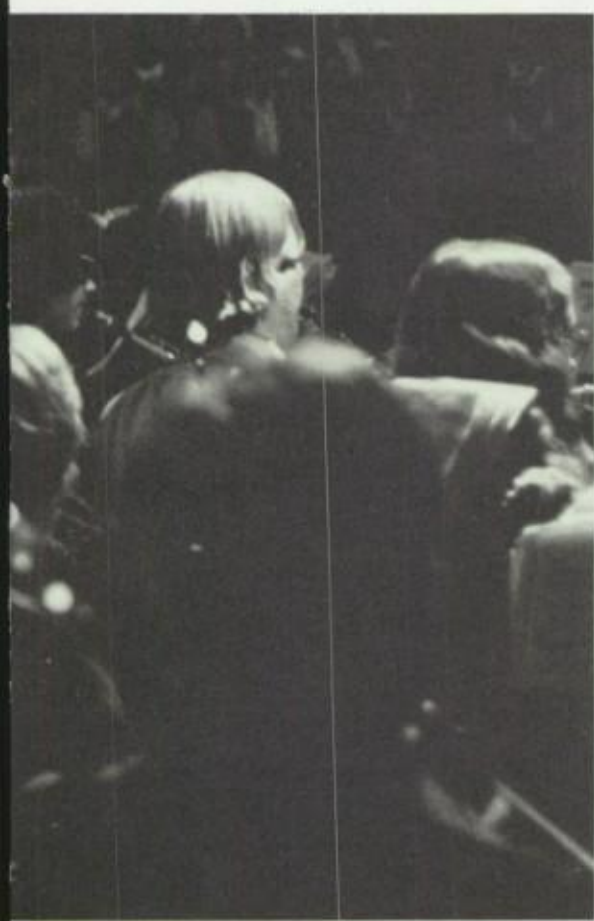

What is that stuff on my arm??

ANNE RUTAN

There are no words
With which to say Goodbye . . .
There are only aching tears
And sun filled memories.
Casual little things
Now take on a deeper meaning,
Sealed with the solemn thought
Of final parting . . .
Mere words could never taste
The sorrow,
Nor could they express
The painful joy
Of treasured memories.
Let each heart
Bid its own farewell,
And silence
Tell how great the loss . . .
No tongue will ever tell
The tear-edged beauty
Found only in the memory
Of a friend

S.K.

REMEMBER . . .

"A Friend"

Strengthens the heart
Repairs the hurts

Encourages the discovery
Enlightens the mind.

Dissolves the pain
Banishes the loneliness

Understands the anxieties
Increases the joy

Deepens the spirit
Frees the soul.

A GIFT FROM THE PAST

SCENES: CORNING, CIRCA 1917.

WE SAY 'T

HANK YOU'

When it comes to saying thank you to all the people who made this yearbook possible, the number is endless. Thanks go to Mr. Burmeister, Mr. Mishrell, Mr. Schmookler, and all the faculty members for their cooperation. This yearbook couldn't have been completed without the help of Photographics of Rochester, and especially Inter Collegiate Press and their representative Charlie McCann. Of course, without the dedication of the many staff editors and staff this book could never have been completed. Special thanks go to Mr. Ehrman for his hard work on the business end of the yearbook. And extra special thanks go to the Yearbook advisor Mr. Stalbird for his long hours of hard work and many hours of putting up with the staff's laughter, silliness, and sometimes their work.

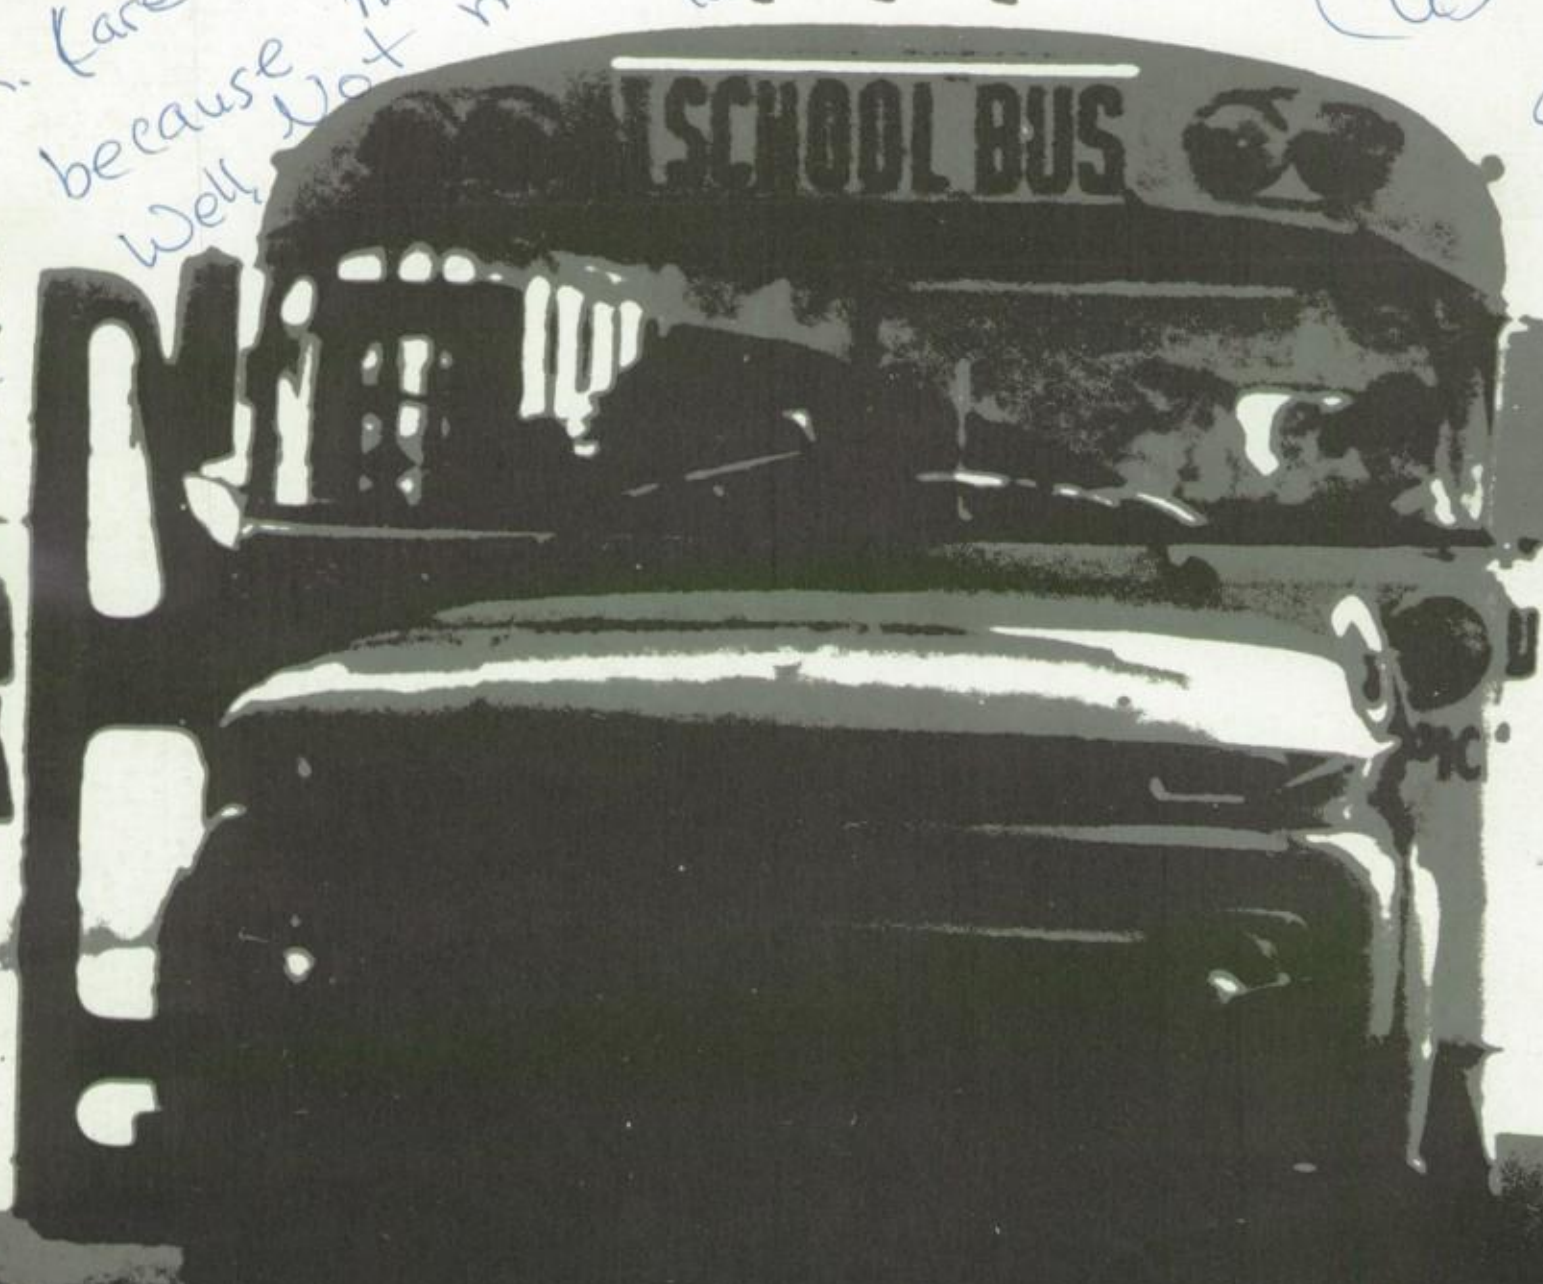

Yearbook editor,
Debbie

Nanci.
Well, I didn't get to know you too well this year but from what I know I think you're O.K. (are you?) I won't say don't forget because no one could ever forget this great Well, not much more to say but good luck in the future etc.

CLOSING

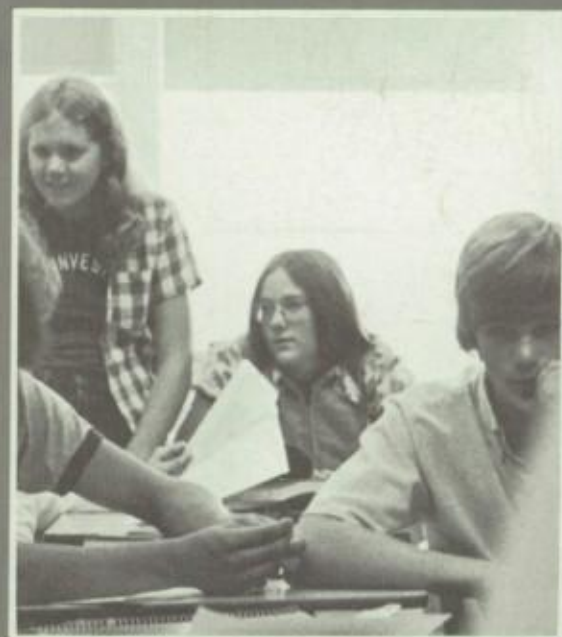

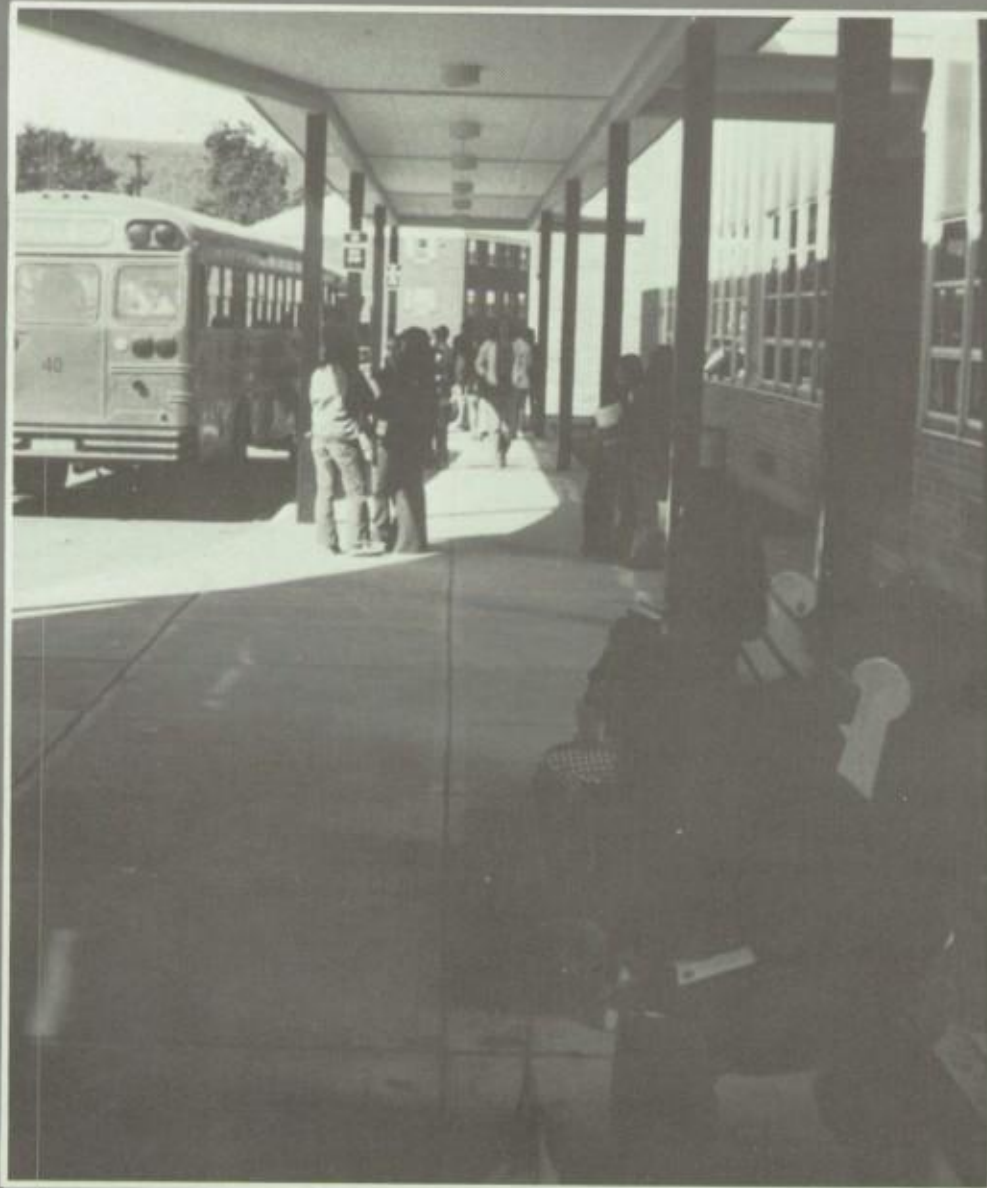

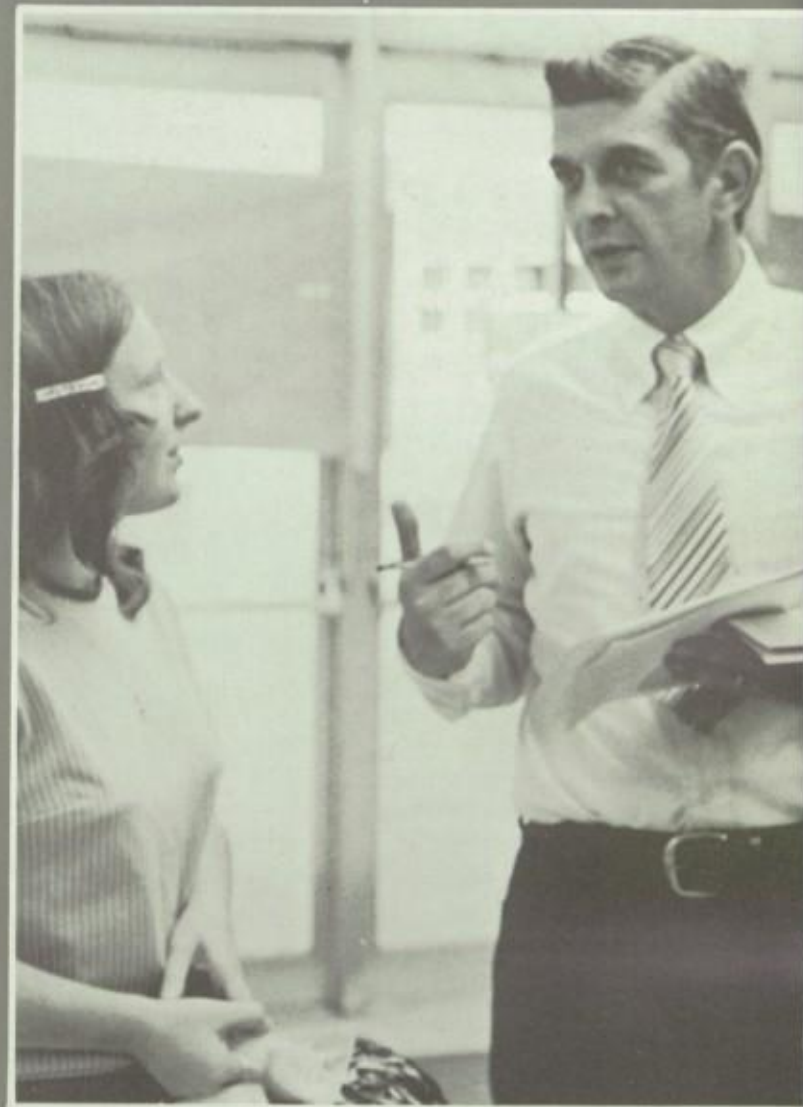

They've renewed our city
 Along with our lives
 We've grown, we've learned, we've started to care
 Progress comes and we move on
 With a lot of experiences to share.

Yesterday we thought life was so senseless
Today we decided to give it a try
Progress comes and we move on Only life can determine where our future lies.

Yesterday we couldn't have cared about learning
Today we found that need to care
Progress comes and we move on
With a bit of knowledge to share
With their own bit of knowledge to share.

Citizens of East, we want you to know
Tomorrow'll be a brighter day
Though they've renewed your city
And renewed your life
It's all leading on to a better way,
Yes it's all leading on to a day.

Nancy,
Good luck with everything you do in the future.
Stay as sweet as you are!
Be happy, take care, and be good.
Love,
Kim Smith

Nancy
Not in book.
But as a friend she may be good. Stay the way you are. Tell me a plan
maybe Barb.

Nancy,
Best of luck
in everything you do. Remember all the fun we had at BOCs.

Nancy.
It has been nice knowing you this year at Boces. Have a great summer,
and then you will be a senior next year. Remember all the good times we had in office practice.
